The Franco-German Diplomatic Difference.

LONDON, April 16.—The following statement is the authority for the reported differences between France and Germany, mentioned yesterday. The London Telegraph of the 15th inst says: "We regret to learn of the relations between France and Germany, the critical condition whereof, made known through these columns, is causing the greatest anxiety to those by whom it is best appreciated." The Telegraph further expresses the belief that it is only the exercise of discretion at Paris and Berlin that grave ocmplications may be averted. The foregoing was based upon the statements of Paris and Berlin correspondents. These correspondents say that Germany distrusts France, and is displeased at the armament and military organization which the Thiers Government is carrying forward; that Bismarck is about to protest against this, and will declare the necessity for the action of Germany in reoccupying the recently evacuated territory. The Telegraph also asserts that the speech of Thiers at the adjournment of the Assembly created a grave impression at Berlin. It has been hinted that the telegraph is in some way in the interest of the German Chancellor, and there is besides an impression that this story is fabricated for ulterior purposes.

Marriage of the Marquis of Bute.

The marriage of the Marquis of Bute to a daughter of Lord Howard took place this morning at the Roman Catholic Oratory at Brompton. The ceremonies were witnessed by a great crowd. The Baroness Burdet Coutts, the Duchess of Argyle, Baron Rothschild, the Duke of Norfolk, and many other noble personages, were presented to the newly married couple. Among the many presents sent to the bride was a set of cameo brooches from the Pope.

Text [illegible] England's Protest Against the Jurisdiction of the Geneva Arbitrators.

LONDON, April 16.—The following note accompanied the counter case delivered to the Board of Arbitrators at Geneva yesterday, on behalf of Great Britain: "The undersigned is instructed by by Her Majesty's government to say that while presenting their counter case, under the special reservation hereinafter mentioned, they find it incumbent on them to inform the Arbitrators that a misunderstanding has unfortunately arisen between Great Britain and the United States touching the nature and extent of the claims referred to in the Treaty of Washington. The misunderstanding relates to claims for indirect losses, under three heads: First, loss in the transfer of American shipping to the British flag; Second, loss from enhanced insurance; Third, loss from promotion of the war. The claims for indirect losses is not admitted by Her Majesty's Government to be within the scope and intention of the arbitration. Her Majesty's government have been, and still are, in correspondence with the government of the United States in relation thereto. That correspondence has not been brought to a final issue. Her Majesty's government desire that the arbitrators shall proceed with reference to the claims for direct loss. They have thought it proper, meantime, o present a counter case, which is strictly confined to direct claims, in the hope that the unfortunate misunderstanding may be removed. Her Majesty's government hereby expressly and formally notify the arbitrators that this counter case is presented without prejudice to the position assumed by Her Majesty's government in the correspondence whereto reference has been made, and under express reservation of all Her Majesty's rights, in the event of a difference continuing o exist between the parties. If necessary, urther communication will be made to the rbitrators." [Signed] "TENTERDEN."

A special dispatch from Geneva to the Daily News says: "It is feared that the protest gainst the jurisdiction of the arbitrators at eneva over American claims for indirect damges, which accompanies the British counter ase, may prevent the settling of the dispute etween England and America, arising under hose claims."

XLII CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16, 1872.

SENATE.

On motion of Mr. SHERMAN, a bill passed providing for the redemption and sale of lands held by the United States under the several acts levying taxes. It excludes from its provisions all lots or tracts on which there are national cemeteries, or which have been set apart or are needed for military or naval purposes.

Mr. POMEROY entered a motion to reconsider the vote by which it passed.

Mr. CAMERON introduced a joint resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations, permitting diplomatic and consular officers of the United States in France to accept testimonials from the Emperor of Germany for their services to the Germans in France during the war between France and Germany.

The Australian steamship subsidy bill was further discussed at length, but without acting on it the Senate went into executive session and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

On motion of Mr. FARNSWORTH, the House non-concurred in Senate amendments to the House bill allotting contracts for transporting mails. A conference committee was ordered.

Mr. DAWES, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported the bill to reduce duties on imports and internal taxes. Referred to Committee of the Whole and made the special order for Tuesday next, and from day to day until disposed of.

Mr. KELLY failed to obtain leave to report a minority bill.

Mr. BECK asked who composed the minority?

Mr. KELLY said that he himself was one.

Mr. BEATTY objected to Mr. Kelly's bill being introduced.

Mr. BANKS remarked that the admission of Mr. Kelly's bill had no effect whatever except to give notice that such opinions exist.

The Speaker remarked that the bill could be introduced on Monday next as a matter of right.

Mr. KELLY asked that the bill be printed in the Globe for the information of the House and country.

Mr. BEATTY—I object to that, too.

Mr. BROOKS, of New York—I am in the minority of the committee, with two other gentlemen. I should like to know what minority the gentleman from Pennsylvania represents?

Mr. KELLY—Mr. Maynard unites with me in every provision of the bill. I report it at his instance and request.

Mr. BROOKS—Then there are two gentlemen out of the committee of nine in favor of that bill. I do not object to its reception.

Mr. HOOPER—If the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Kelly) is in the minority of two and the gentleman from New York (Mr. Brooks) in the minority of three, I should like to know whether the bill reported by my colleague (Mr. Dawes) is the report of the majority?

The Speaker—That is rather an arithmetical question. [Laughter.]

Mr. DAWES then proceeded to address the House. He said: In reporting this bill I desire the indulgence of the House for a few moments. Public expectation and the patience of the House have so long awaited on the business in this committee, that it is proper that at the earliest moment I should briefly submit the result of their labors. The bill now reported is, as its title indicates, "a bill for the reduction of duties and internal taxes," and for such improvements in the administration of the laws therewith connected as have been suggested by the laborious examination the committee have given to the subject. The amount of reduction, on the basis of last year's receipts, is as follows: Duties—Tea $2,348,639; coffee, $2,949,309; coal $322,881; salt, $615,520; leather, $529,528; iron and manufactures thereof, $2,135,223; steel and manufactures thereof, $745,539; wool, $559,823; woolen manufactures, $4,759,680; woolen carpets, $19,772; cotton manufactures, $788,724; copper and manufactures thereof, $39,611; chemicals, drugs, etc., $584,862; cork, manufactured, $28,915; lumber, $761,801; all other articles and free list, $1,584,667; total, $18,952,438. Internal Revenue—Tobacco, $6,720,000; gas, $2,573,123; bank checks, $1,250,000; matches, $2,250,000; agreement stamps, estimated, $100,000; total, $12,893,123. Grand total, $31,845,561. Estimated reduction on duty received in '71—tea, $3,625,116; coffee, $5,070,430.

In addition to these reductions the committee has endeavored to throw safeguards around the administration of our custom houses, and has greatly simplified the laws pertaining to internal revenue. It has consolidated into an equivalent tax of sixty-five cents, nearly all of the several taxes on whisky; it has removed many of the annoying and restrictive provisions of existing laws, obstructing the business of the distiller and harrassing commerce in that article. It has provided, instead of sixteen cents for smoking tobacco and thirty-two cents for chewing tobacco, a uniform tax of twenty cents per pound on all kinds of tobacco, and has at the same time provided a safe method for exporting tobacco, as well as spirits, directly from the manufactory, without the cumbersome forms and unsatisfactory drawbacks of the existing law. It has been its endeavor, while reducing taxation, to make more efficient, and if possible, at the same time less burdensome and annoying, the laws which shall enforce the duties and taxes which remain.

It is manifest to those who have had any experience in the adjustment of tariffs and imposition of taxes, that a bill so framed that every item shall be satisfactory to all the members of the committee engaged in that work is an impossibility. There are, doubtless, different provisions in this bill to which each member of the committee in turn might have objections. I have the permission of the committee to state to the House my own emphatic dissent from some of the essential provisions of this bill, and also their permission to give in the House such amendments as will remove those objections. What these provisions are, and reasons for my dissent from them, I will more fully set forth whenever, in extended debate on this bill, I shall have opportunity. It would have better met my view if, first and foremost, it had removed all possible taxations and restrictions as well as burdens now harrassing the business and pursuits of people arising from internal taxes, except those on spirituous and fermented liquors and tobacco, and next had presented a larger and broader free list of articles now dutiable which enter into the manufactures and industries of this country, and are not such as can be produced at home, and had distributed whatever balance of reduction the exigencies of the government would permit, more generally over the whole remaining list of dutiable goods, thereby falling less heavilp on some and more generally, and consequently lighter, on all. In this way there would be as little disturbance as possible of the currents and expectations and faith of trade and capital, and reliance of labor. And I would have preferred, in doing this, that the aggregate of reductions should have reached, as I hoped it might, instead of the sum of $31,845,561, at least forty to forty-five millions, which I believe the revenue of the future will justify. It will be my endeavor by fair process of amendment in progress of this bill, to reach that end, and I have no doubt that by the co-operation of the House the bill will be so far improved as to command the support and approval of the people.

At the conclusion of Mr. Dawes's remarks, Mr. MAYNARD asked and obtained leave to introduce a bill, on which himself and Mr. Kelly, as a minority of the Committee, had agreed. It is entitled "a bill for the further reduction of taxes and promotion of commerce. It puts internal taxes first; it makes tea and coffee free, with other additions to the free list; it adopts the ten per cent. reduction provision of the Senate bill as to many of the articles embraced in it; it puts the rates of tobacco at sixteen cents a pound, uniform, and it permits the Secretary of the Treasury, under such regulations as he may prescribe, to maintain tobacco warehouses. It also provides a consolidated tax of sixty-five cents on spirits, but abolishes the tax on sales of both spirits and tobacco, and abolishes about half the stamps included in schedule B. The measure makes a reduction of fifty million dollars from two sources of revenue, and provides for the diminution of the force of the Internal Revenue service to the extent of one-half the number of employees and expenses.

Mr. DAWES, from the same committe, reported a bill to regulate the seizure and examination of invoices, books and papers, in customs revenue cases.

Mr. KERR, to whom the bill had been especially committed as a member of the Committee of Ways and Means, proceeded to explain it, and said that it was drawn up mainly in view of petitions extensively signed by business men in twenty-five States of the Union, and that it was designed to relieve merchants from abuses which had grown up under the existing law.

After some further discussion the bill went over without action until to-morrow.

Mr. KETCHAM, from the conference committee on St. Croix and Lake Superior land grant bill, reported that the committee had been unable to agree.

Mr. HOLMAN moved that the House adhere to its action, which was carried, yeas 110, nays 54. This amounts to the rejection of the bill.

WASHINGTON.

THE TARIFF BILL REPORTED.

Synopsis of Its Provisions.

The Views of the Minority.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16, 1872.

The Long Anticipated Tariff Bill

Was reported from the Committee of Ways and Means to-day, and the interest excited among members was so great that they crowded around Mr. Dawes, who, at the last moment, had somewhat recovered from his captiousness and concluded that he would report the bill. The title of the bill had hardly been read when Mr. Kelly arose and asked leave to report a minority bill. This brought Mr. Beck and Mr. Brooks to their feet, demanding to know whom Kelly meant by minority, when the latter explained that it meant himself and Maynard. The minority were not considered of sufficient importance in this instance to be entitled to this courtesy, and all that Kelly could do was to get leave to have his bill or report printed, taking the chance of a majority vote next Monday to allow it to come in. After a few brief remarks upon the general bill it was made the special order for Tuesday next, where the matter rests for the present.

In explanation of the bill reported to-day, other than that made by Mr. Dawes, the revenue reform members of the Committee, as distinguished from Democrats and free traders, who also sustain it, state that the majority and minority of the committee disagree rather as to the application than the amount of the reduction. The bill applies $9,800,000 of the tariff reductions to leather, iron and steel and their manufactures, copper, cotton, wool and woolens, on a valuation of imports during the last year of $134,000,000, and duty collected of $67,000,000, averaging fifty per cent. The bill reduces the average rate to forty-three per cent. Iron and steel are reduced from 43 to 36, average per cent.; wool from 46 to 40 per cent.; woolens, on the articles reduced, from the average of sixty-nine per cent. to fifty-six per cent.; cottons from forty per cent. to an average of thirty-eight per cent. The proposition which seems to be favored by the minority of the committee makes a sweeping ten per cent. reduction, amounting to $6,437,872, on these items, and the same rate on a few others amounting to $887,000 more. The committee apply their reduction to the highest rates, leaving the lower unchanged or slightly reduced, unless the duty is practically prohibitory. Cheap cotton goods, under the present laws, bear sixty and seventy per cent. duties. The heavy importations are all of the more expensive goods, at thirty-five per cent. ad valorem. The high rates are reduced one hundred and fifty, but not below thirty-five per cent. The lowest present rate on spool thread is seventy-one per cent. The same reduction is made on all threads, but not below forty per cent. The duties on cottons were raised during the war, when cotton was very high. The specific duty on cheap goods gave a low rate and it was supposed the most expensive, at thirty-five per cent. ad valorem, would continue to pay the highest rate. The reduction in the prices of cotton increased the low specific to the present excessive rate on cheap goods. The majority propose to reduce all ten per cent.—on wool $450,000. The reduction in the bill is $550,000, but applied on the excessive rates on wools required, by the manufacture of cloths, &c., reducing them from sixty-five per cent. to fifty-three. The equivalent specific rate allowed to manufactures is reduced in the same degree, allowing a reduction of nearly $3,000,000 on specifics, without injury to the manufactured. One-half of the ten per cent. ad valorem allowed them in 1867 for the six per cent. Internal Revenue tax is now repealed.

The Kelly Bill,

Which has been rather quietly proposed, and took most of the members by surprise, is in many of its provisions identical with the bill of the majority, but in others is very widely and essentially different. In the first place it reverses the order of posts and places internal revenue sections before the tariff, making in the revenue such important changes and reductions that it will enable the Treasury Department to practically disband the internal revenue service. The tax on tobacco is made uniform at sixteen cents per pound. The tax on sales of tobacco and distilled spirits is repealed, inasmuch as the collection of those involves the services of a number of officers who otherwise might be dispensed with. The bill, however, provides for the retention of bonded tobacco warehouses, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. The stamp tax on friction matches, together with nearly one-half the stamp taxes included in schedule D are repealed. In the tariff portion of the bill tea and coffee, as was to be expected, are placed on the free list, to which is also added a large number of articles consumed but which cannot be produced in this country. Instead of the sweeping reduction in some articles of cotton and woolen manufacture, the bill adopts, with regard to these and several other products, the ten per cent uniform reduction prescribed in the Senate bill now on the table of the Speaker. Careful estimation of the total reductions contemplated on both tariff and revenue bills places it between forty-five and fifty millions. This bill is understood to be ultimatum of the extreme protectionists of the committee and when the open rupture first occurred there it received the preference of Dawes over the bill then drawn up by the majority of the Committee. Since that time, however, all concessions, as has been heretofore stated, have come from the revenue reformers until this morning. Dawes finally made up his mind to to report the committee's bill, reserving, however, the right to offer amendments to any part of the bill from which he dissented.

The Job Squelched.

The St. Croix and Bayfield land grant bill was pretty effectually squelched in the House to-day. After Mr. Ketcham, on behalf of the Conference Committee, had reported disagreement, Mr. Scofield moved that the House recede from its amendment. This gave rise to a running debate of about half an hour, in the course of which a letter was sent up to the Clerk's desk from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, correcting the erroneous imprsssion which had been made by the advocates of the job, to the effect that if the grant was not renewed the lands would enure to the benefit of the Northern Pacific Railway and would not revert to the public domain. According to the Commissioner this railway could take about one-sixth of these lands under their original grant, but if granted to the St. Croix enterprise said railroad would be entitled to the option of an equal amount elsewhere. It was anticipated that the vote to recede would be very close as the lobby have been industriously at work here now nearly all winter and have dealt very liberally with promises. Carpenter and Howe, as has been their practice, came over from the Senate to lobby for the scheme, and brought Conkling along with them to look after the New York delegation. Rusk, who had counted noses, was sanguine as to final success. On the motion to recede the House stubbornly refused to stultify its previous record on this job, by 115 to 57. Then followed a motion to adhere to its amendments, which was also successful by 83 to 49. The effect of this action is to virtually kill Carpenter's Senate bill, and the House substitute will now go to the Senate as an original bill. If the Senate passes it, it will make one of the best homestead laws that has been passed for many a session. If the Senate takes no action on it, nevertheless the St. Croix land grabbers are left out in the cold.

The Rebate on Lumber.

Several members of the Wisconsin and Michigan Congressional delegation, becoming somewhat agitated over the rebate to be allowed by the Treasury Department to all manufactured lumber imported under the provisions of the Chicago relief bill, to-day visited Secretary Boutwell to have an explicit statement from him on this point. The Secretary informed them that according to his view of the bill there could be no other construction to it than to allow such rebate, but that nevertheless he was open to conviction, and as it was perhaps an open question he would give notice to parties to be affected adversely before final decision.

The Powell Surveys.

The House Committee on Appropriations to-day decided to allow J. W. Powell $20,000 for the completion of his surveys of the canons of Colorado.

Kansas-Cherokee Land Suit.

In the Supreme Court of the United States to-day, Judge Lawrence, of Ohio, made the opening argument of two hours in the great Kansas-Cherokee neutral land suit of Holden vs. Joy, on behalf of the settlers. He will close his argument to-morrow. Judge B. R. Curtis will reply to him on behalf of Joy, and General Butler will close the argument for the settlers. The case involves the title to nearly two counties of land, worth twenty million dollars, claimed by Joy under an Indian treaty, and by the settlers under the pre-emption law. It involves great constitutional questions, and is one of the most important cases ever heard in the courts.

The South Improvement Investigation.

The House Committee on Commerce will continue its investigation into the affairs of the South Improvement Company to-morrow. Inasmuch as P. H. Watson, President of the said company, has acknowledged that the original contracts between that company and the railroads are lost, the delegation of oil producers now here will insist that the committee resort to the next best evidence, and sworn copies of the contracts will be presented for that purpose.

Complete Answer.

About the only notice Senator Schurz proposes to take of the charges made against him by superserviceable newspaper correspondents, to the effect that he is in arrears to the Government in his accounts while Minister to Spain, is to present a bill to the Fifth Auditor for the balance of a few hundred dollars which that official alleges to be yet due him on these very accounts.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16, 1872.

THE ARMS SALES INQUIRY.

The Senate Arms Sales Investigating Committee met this morning. H. F. Crosby, confidential clerk to the Secretary of War, testified he was present on the 19th of January at the interview between the Secretary of War and Marquis De Chambrun; no letter was then read from the Secretary of War to the Secretary of State, nor anything that purported to be such letter. Secretary Belknap was recalled. His testimony related chiefly to conversations with the Marquis de Chambrun, the substance of which has heretofore been published. In his former testimony the witness stated that he was positive that he had never read his letter to the Secretary of the State to anyone, but having refreshed his memory he was now of the opinion that he did read the document to Chambrun. Witness quoted from and commented on various points in Chambrun's testimony, saying the Marquis was mistaken in many of his statements. The witness never said to the Marquis that he was the ordnance officer. Witness did not recollect some things which Chambrun had stated as having occurred in conversations between them. Chambrun made some explanations as to his former testimony, and also to that of the Secretary of War. If he had been mistaken as to his recollection concerning the letter of the Secretary of War, it was, to say the least, a strange delusion.

EMANCIPATION ANNIVERSARY.

The colored people to-day celebrated the anniversary of the proclamation abolishing slavery in this District by a procession, which is conceded to have been the finest ever made on an occasion of this kind. The President and all the members of the Cabinet reviewed the procession from the portico of the White House. A reception this evening concluded the exercises.

NOMINATIONS.

The President sent the following nominations to the Senate to-day: Warren Bristow, Associate Justice of Supreme Court, New Mexico; William Daily, U. S. Marshal of Nebraska; Noyce B. Prentice, Marshal of the Northern District of Ohio. Assistant Assessors—James A. Boyd, Second district of West Virginia; James McCauley, Thirteenth district of Ohio. Gauger—John H. Clark, Sixteenth district of Ohio.

CABINET SESSION.

The Cabinet was in session about two hours to-day. All the members were present except Delano, who is still west. Gen. Cowan represented the Department of the Interior. The special feature of interest was the reading of a telegram from Gen. Sheridan to the Secretary of War, announcing that thirty-five privates and seven officers of the Juarez party had crossed the river and were arrested and taken to San Antonio, where the privates were released on parole, though the officers are still under arrest. Gen. Sheridan asks what disposition shall be made of them. The subject was referred to the Attorney General, who will correspond with reference thereto with the local State authorities of San Antonio. The Cabinet was also engaged with Department business of no extraordinary import. The English note was not alluded to in the course of official business.

THE CIVIL SERVICE RULES.

The following Executive order has been issued:

The Advisory Board of Civil Service having completed the grouping contemplated by the rules already adopted, have recommended certain provisions for carrying the rules into effect. The recommendations as published are approved and the provisions will be enforced as rapidly as proper arrangements can be made and the thirteenth of the rules adopted on the 19th of December last, is amended to read as published. The utmost fidelity and diligence will be expected of all officers in every branch of the public service. Political assessments, as they are called, have been forbidden within the various Departments, and while the right of all persons in official position to take part in politics is acknowledged, and the elective franchise is recognized as a high trust to be discharged by all entitled to its exercise, whether in the employment of the Government or in private life, honesty and efficiency, not political activity, will determine the tenure of office.

[Signed] U. S. GRANT.

By the President: Hamilton Fish, Secretary of State.

The report of the Advisory Board, with accompanying regulations, has been promulgated. The regulations, as stated by the Board, limit and modify the operation of the rules already adopted, so far as the welfare of the service seems to require. It is stated to be desirable that all should have an equal chance in competition for executive offices in Washington, and to that end it is recommended that the Advisory Board may direct when examinations shall be held for such appointments in the various States. The Board also expresses the opinion that where an officer has discharged his duty efficiently, and his reappointment seems to be desirable, there is no good reason that he should not be appointed at discretion. In such a case his official service has been both an examination and a probation, and they therefore recommend that when the term of office expires by limitation of law, the incumbent may be reappointed at pleasure. While deprecating perpetual proscription, it is recommended that no person shall be appointed to position in the service who shall not have furnished satisfactory evidence of his fidelity to the Union and Constitution. Regarding the customs service, the board recommends that when vacancies occur in the chief positions that the Secretary of the Treasury shall ascertain if there be suitable and available persons already in the customs service within the district in which such chief vacancy occurs, and if such persons are found, that the appointment shall be made from them; but if they are not found, it may be made at discretion. The report deals at length with the grading and grouping of officers in the Executive Department, in Collectors' and Surveyors' offices and in the Internal Revenue service. The regulations, which are appended to the report, are nineteen in number, and specify in separate detail the requirements alluded to in a general way in the preceding report.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 16, 1872.

THE NEWS BRIEFLY.

The funeral services of the late N. H. Belden took place to-day from the Church of the Transfiguration. The Masonic order was largely represented.

Another dead lock in the city government is threatened. Unless action is taken by the Legislature. The law providing for the payment of city expenses, &c., expires on the 30th of April, after which no salaries or claims can be paid if relief is not granted.

The trial of Fanny Hyde, in Brooklyn, was resumed to-day. The defense admits the shooting of Watson, but assert their ability to show that Mrs. Hyde was insane at the time the act was committed. It was argued that she was driven to insanity by the tantalizing approaches of Watson and the great anxiety she felt for her reputation.

Leonard F. Fowler, a well known Western counterfeiter, was arrested to-day while engaged in negotiating a quantity of counterfeit ten and twenty dollar bills of the Poughkeepsie National Bank. He was held in $10,000 bail to answer. Fowler hails from Cincinnati.

Judge Curtis publishes a card stating that the reason he refused to testify before the Bar Association was because it would embarrass the work of reformation he begun in the Marine Court. At the proper time, he says, he will vindicate himself before a regular and legal body.

NEW HAVEN POISON CASE.

A New Haven special says: Lydia Thurman was arraigned to-day and pleaded not guilty. A jury was obtained in half an hour, and the examination of Dr. Beardsley, family physician, proceeded. Witness swore positively he discovered symptoms of poisoning in deceased. The trial is creating considerable excitement.

THE SUNDAY QUESTION.

The annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, held in this city, adopted this morning the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, Communism, the liquor interest and kindred influences evidently act on the idea that the Sabbath is the chief obstacle in their paths in this country; and whereas, Sunday trains are among the most powerful of their agents to remove those obstacles; and whereas, Sunday mails are the main excuse for Sunday trains,

Resolved, First, That as Christian patrons we hereby protest against Sunday mails as dangerous alike to our civil and religious liberty.

Second, That we deem this subject of such importance as to demand the attention of the approaching General Conference.

The remainder of the session was devoted mainly to the discussion of tobacco, and its use as detrimental to religious life; also to the laudation of the virtues of many generous laymen, who had contributed so generously to the cause of education that the Church had now become one of the chief depositaries of learning. There was a large attendance.

Proceedings of the Ohio Legislature.

COLUMBUS, April 16.—After a long and persistent contest the House to-day passed the Senate bill to authorize counties, cities and towns, on a two-thirds vote of the electors thereof, to build railroads and lease or operate the same. A resolution for the adjournment of the General Assembly on April 29th, to meet again January 5th, 1873, was adopted in both houses to-day.

The trial of Charles Waller for the murder of Henry Taylor (both colored men), in Cairo, Ill., last October, closed on Monday night, resulting in his conviction. He was sentenced to ninety-nine years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

NATIONAL POLITICS.

There are indications that Governor Palmer, of Illinois, has withdrawn from the canvass for the regular Republican nomination for Governor, to go into the "Liberal" movement, with the expectation of receiving the Gubernatorial nomination from that quarter, or possibly the Presidential nomination.

John C. Fremont has joined the Cincinnati movement. The leaders are entitled to the sympathy of all who can feel for one afflicted with visitations of a damaging character.

The Washington dispatch to the Herald says: "Chase's Convention, which was to have been held at Parkersburg next Thursday, is a failure, and Trumbull as a candidate is also dead. Davis is not entirely acceptable, and some of the Democrats have been urging Charles Francis Adams in his stead; but Adams is so unpopular among the Irish voters that he cannot win. Were it not for this, a determined effort would be made in his behalf. On the whole the situation is unsatisfactory and uncertain as ever, and the politicians here are discussing Pennsylvania, partly because they think the Presidential canvass will turn on that State, and partly because they have nothing else to talk about."

The World hits off the anti-Grant meeting in New York, Tuesday evening last, as follows:

"We scarcely need say that the emphasis of the Cooper Institute meeting was not in all cases put where we would have bestowed it. In Mr. Trumbull's speech, free trade did not even receive the cold tribute of a passing recognition. Mr. Schurz, to be sure, stood by the free-trade colors, but with such brevity, and in language so restrained and pointless, as to afford little ground for hoping that the Cincinnati Convention will be a free-trade demonstration. And, what is still more discouraging, this part of his speech did not evoke a single cheer, whereas the heartiest greetings and wildest applause of the meeting were given to Horace Greeley, the chief apostle of an effete and absurd political economy."

The Tribune protests that there neither can nor shall be the slightest management to bring around results in the Cincinnati Convention—no slate, no anything but unadulterated patriotism and freedom of choice. Nevertheless, the Tribune proceeds to make known in advance how the thing will be managed, and to give warning that there must be no departure from the programme—thus:

"Those present from each State will doubtless organize as a delegation, with a chairman and secretary, and will first determine what candidates would be most certain or most likely to carry their own State, and then be ready to confer and compare notes with others. If it be decided that a nomination shall be made, then the chairman of each delegation will be authorized to cast in its behalf as many votes as its State is entitled to cast through its Electoral College, so that the few members present from Maine or California shall not be swamped by the many from Ohio and Missouri."

A Washington dispatch asserts that Mr. Sumner has not yet decided to go to Cincinnati, but is ready to promote its objects if matters are put in a shape where he can ask his legions of friends to do so without compromising themselves.

The following is telegraphed to the New York Times: One of the principal features of the Cincinnati Convention has been prematurely disclosed by its indiscreet movers. It is an arrangement for a series of spontaneous receptions to be given Hon. Horace Greeley, so as to make his progress from New York to Cincinnati a sort of triumphal procession. The route will be through Pennsylvania, and the places of halt have been selected with a view to crowds, hurrahs and bonfires.

There is positively no truth in the frequently telegraphed report from Washington as to Senator Logan's sympathy with the Cincinnati movement. He does not take rose-colored views of the political situation, but he proposes to make his best fight for the nominee at Philadelphia. Everybody who knows General Logan's style of fighting knows what kind of a fight that will be.

A Cincinnati dispatch to the New York Times says: "It having been denied that Hon. A. K. McClure, of Pennsylvania, is coming here on the occasion of the Convention, it can be authoritatively announced that he is endeavoring to secure quarters for a delegation of one hundred from Philadelphia. He has telegraphed to-day to one of the leading hotels for public parlor, private parlor and sleeping-rooms for his followers, but as yet has not secured them. From the fact that he desires such extensive accommodations for consultation, and is to be attended by so many of his henchmen, it is surmised that he comes in the interest of the Davis-Curtin combination, of which information has been sent from Washington. As yet, however, there is nothing definite as to his designs, which have been so well masked that on Wednesday last he was consulting with the delegates to the Republican Convention at Harrisburg, and it was asserted, by those who are supposed to know his intentions, that he was not coming here at all. Extensive preparations are being made for the accommodation of delegates, who are expected to come in large numbers. All the rooms in nearly all the leading hotels are engaged from the 27th inst., and one large hotel has been taken entire by the St. Louis delegation. There is as yet, however, no indication that the crowds of men calling themselves delegates, who are expected here, are to be other than the personal retainers of the chief soreheads in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, and some few others of the principal cities."

The Cincinnati Commercial puts forth the following: "The inclination of the independent people of this country to support Charles Francis Adams for the Presidency develops with rapidity, and there is already manifest in it immense strength. The point of difficulty is the disposition of the Democratic party to persist in the old way of doing things, a sufficient experience, it appears, of overwhelming defeats not having been obtained."

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial writes:

"There is a large body of the opponents of the military Republicans, perhaps a majority of them in this city, who believe that the Cincinnati ticket will be Judge Davis and ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin, of Pennsylvania. The latter gentleman is now on his way from Russia, having resigned his mission to oppose Grant. It is expected that he can carry Pennsylvania, and that Judge Davis can carry Illinois, two very important States."

They have commenced killing off Judge Davis, the Labor Reform candidate, on account of his connection with the Cummings decision, in Missouri, about two years ago. This case came to the Supreme Court on appeal, to test the constitutionality of a State law of Missouri which makes it a misdemeanor for a Catholic priest to perform his office without taking the Missouri test oath. Cummings—the priest—in the lower court, was fined five hundred dollars and sentenced to ten year's imprisonment for performing his functions without taking the oath. The Supreme Court held the act unconstitutional, but Judges Davis, Miller, Swayne, and the Chief Justice dissented, thus declaring that a Catholic priest had no right to perform his duties without taking the Missouri test oath.

The New York Journal of Commerce, which speaks for the honester portion of the party, raises the following note of warning:

"The Democratic party is in a very quiet state. What it will do remains to be seen. We warn all who are interested, however, that the day is long past when a few men can promise anything for that party. We have seen the day when ten men could be named whose assurance of Democratic action would be a guarantee of the course of the party. Not so now. Those were times when the party was in power, when its discipline was perfect—when the leaders were trusted and followed. Now there are no leaders, but there is an immense party, unshaken by adversity, although acting like a mob, and devoid of ordinary common sense. A few hundred votes changed would have given them New Hampshire and Connecticut, and will give them Pennsylvania and New York. Under such circumstances, if the Cincinnati Convention should make a nomination in May, trusting to the insane idea that the Democratic party is demoralized and dead, and that its poor remains will gladly indorse their action, it is just as likely as not that a large portion of the Democratic party will go wild with the idea of running in a candidate between the two Republicans, and will make a separate nomination for that end. Such a course would in all probability re-elect Grant, but as we have said, the Democratic party with all its power lacks common sense, and its old leaders are powerless to control it."

MRS. EMILY EDSON BRIGGS, in the Washington Chronicle, makes the statement that not even the sacred precincts of Mount Vernon have been secured against the entrance of the public despoiler. She makes the gravest charges against Miss Pamela Cunningham, regent for life over the estate under the charter authorizing the "Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of the Union" to purchase two hundred acres of that estate, including the mansion and tomb of Washington. She charges that Miss Cunningham has usurped all power heretofore centered in the association, and states that Mount Vernon has become to all intents and purposes Miss Cunningham's private property for life; and after this gives the facts upon which these startling charges are based. She directly affirms that certain money given this Monnt Vernon Association might as well have dropped into the depths of the sea. Miss Cunningham is represented as living in extravagant style, with a great retinue of servants, &c., her expenses paid to and from South Carolina, as well as for her fashionable sojourn at Cape May; and the writer pertinently asks why the large sum of $200,000 is being raised for Mount Vernon, when the estate is self-supporting, the steamer Arrow alone paying into the treasury $500 monthly.

THE dwelling of Mrs. Stockton, the residence of Chandler Pierce and the Presbyterian church in Westfield, Chautauqua county, New York, were destroyed by fire on Saturday.

COUNTY POLITICS.

Meeting of the Republican Executive Committee—Nominating Conventions to be Held May 28th.

An adjourned meeting of the Republican County Executive Committee was held yesterday afternoon, at two o'clock, at the Lincoln club rooms.

In the absence of the Chairman, H. W. Oliver, Jr., Major Russell Errett was called to preside. Messrs. H. M. Long and Thos. H. Phelps, Secretaries.

Major Errett stated that the object of the meeting was to fix the time for holding the next county conventions.

Thos. S. Bigelow, Esq., offered a resolution providing that six conventions be held—1st. Legislative and Congressional. 2d. Judicial and Constitutional convention. 3d. Sheriff. 4th. Clerks of the Quarter Sessions and Orphans' Court. 5th. Recorder and Register. 6th. Commissioner and Director of the Poor. Also, that the primary meetings be held on Saturday, June 8th, and the conventions on Tuesday, June 11th.

Mr. John A. Myler thought the time was not well chosen, as the Philadelphia Convention would meet on the 5th, and those in attendance at the convention would scarcely be back in time to attend the primaries. Several other delegates objected to the time named.

Major Errett suggested that Convention No. 1 be called to nominate Delegates to the Constitutional Convention and candidates for Judges of the Common Pleas; and No. 2 to nominate Congressional and Legislative candidates. This amendment was accepted by Mr. Bigelow.

Dr. W. J. Gilmore moved that the primary meetings be held on Saturday, May 25th, and the conventions on Tuesday, May 28th. He offered this amendment because the season for farmers was very late, and the country people would be much busier in the middle of June than two weeks earlier.

Mr. George Y. McKee favored an earlier day than the 11th of June, as did also Major Errett.

After some further discussion, Mr. Bigelow accepted Dr. Gilmore's amendment, and the report as amended was finally adopted unanimously.

Dr. Gilmore moved the appointment of a committee of three to procure places for holding the conventions. Adopted, and Messrs. W. J. Gilmore, John H. Stewart and J. M. Shafer were appointed.

It was suggested that there were five court rooms which could be had, and the sixth convention could meet in the Common Council chamber.

Colonel Stewart moved that one delegate to each convention be chosen from each election district in the county. Agreed to.

The hours of holding the primary meetings were then fixed—in the wards and boroughs, from three o'clock; in the townships from four to seven—the voting in the cities and boroughs to be by ballot, and in the townships either by ballot or by marking, as the voters might determine.

Mr. George T. Oliver moved that the Presidents of the six conventions be authorized to appoint a County Executive Committee for the ensuing year. Agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Long, seconded by Col. Stewart, it was recommended that no Committee on Resolutions be raised by the Conventions, but that they be requested to adopt the platform of the late State Convention.

Several delegates suggested that such a recommendation would not be binding on the Conventions, whereupon it was explained by the movers that it was only intended as an expression of the sense of the Committee, which the conventions might adopt or not, as they saw fit.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE RESERVOIRS.

The Prices Fixed Upon the Land by the Viewers.

Messrs. T. H. Nevin, Jacob Covode and John McKelvy, the viewers appointed to appraise the property of James McCully and others, as petitioned for by the City Councils, concluded their labors yesterday, and their report was filed in the Court of Quarter Sessions, by Major Slagle, City Attorney. The following is a summary of the report:

James McCully, 50 acres	$225,000 00
Clarissa Herron, 10 acres 65-100	70,000 00
Wm. A. Herron, 3 acres 41-100	30,000 00
Casper Negley and C. B. Seely, 4 acres and 465-1000	6,856 50
Lockhart, Frew & Co., 1 acre 8-100	1,283 00
C. B. Seely, 708-1,000 of an acre	1,696 50
Total	$334,236 00

The McCully property, it will be seen, was valued, with the improvements, at $4,500 per acre, and the Mrs. Herron property at about $7,000 an acre. The property of Wm. A. Herron was valued higher on account of the improvements.

The report will remain on file for ten days, during which any party dissatisfied with the award can file exceptions. When the time elapses, if no exceptions are filed, the report will be confirmed absolutely, after which the city can tender the purchase money to the owners, or pay it into Court, and take possession of the property.

A BLOW AT BULL RUN.

The Mayor on the War Path.

Although the Bull Run District, with headquarters near the corner of Wylie avenue and High street, has kept remarkably quiet for months past, yet now and then the boys will get on a rampage and furnish business for the police. Yesterday afternoon the Mayor had on his criminal list four individuals, charged with disorderly conduct, and who attempted to rescue a prisoner from officer Patrick Kennedy. The latter testified that the other evening he was patrolling his beat along High street, when one "Bull" White approached him and dared him to arrest him. Mr. Kennedy told him to move on and not interfere with him. At this the individual became more disorderly when the officer, as in duty bound, arrested him. At this moment John Murphy, Joseph McCollough and a boy named Hughes attacked the officer and rescued the prisoner. Subsequently Mr. Kennedy made information against the parties, and all were arrested save White, who is sick in bed. The other defendants had hearings yesterday before the Mayor, when Murphy and McCollough were fined twenty-five dollars and costs each and the boy Hughes five dollars and costs. The fines were paid. The Mayor gave the defendants to understand that if they made a second appearance before him he would be doubly severe in his punishment, and would continue to "raise on the boys" until he had convinced them that they must behave themselves as respectable citizens.

The Work of the Young Men's Home.

We laid before our readers yesterday the proposed plans for the extension of the work of this institution, in connection with its consolidation with the Bethel work. A few items in regard to the work of the institution may be of interest to our readers.

This work divides itself into two entirely distinct departments: 1, The Young Men's Home, and 2, The Home for Homeless Men. The first of these is a hotel and boarding house for young men, under Christian auspices, and is fully self-supporting, the ordinary charge for board and lodging being at the rate of $5 per week—the aim being to do in the department of boarding house life, what the Peabody buildings is to the tenement house system—that is, to supply a good article at a low rate of charge, and with moral surroundings. But in the case of the Young Men's Home, the features of religious life is superadded.

In the present Boarding Department there is accommodation for about sixty men, and the rooms are always full.

During the month of March the sum of $1,102 25 was paid by boarders into the treasury, which indicates a healthy state of business.

The other department, the Home for Homeless Men, and which is kept entirely distinct, has also been a complete success, and supplies a much needed place in the social economy of our city. There is always flowing into these large centers a stream of humanity, impecunious, somewhat demoralized, and if neglected, a festering sore upon the social system. Many of these can be reached, aided to employment and restored to their proper place in society. This is largely done by the Home for Homeless Men, and probably few of our readers are aware of the extent of this work as thus carried on. During the month of March the statistics of the house show the following results.

No. of different persons admitted	856
No. of meals given	4,890
No. of lodgings given	3,060
Public religious services	41
Aggregate attendance on these services	2,760
Signers of the temperance pledge	349
Men assisted to employment	70

The institution in its quiet practical way has grappled with the great problem of the amelioration of the social condition of the masses, and while it puts forth a modest claim in regard to these labors—reformed lives, recuperated energies, a restored manhood, a true redemption—in an ever enlarging number, show that the Iron City is awake to the true issues of its future prosperity, and does not propose to lay behind in the practical questions pertaining to a true Christian social issue.

The Morse Meeting.

About two o'clock yesterday afternoon a number of persons, principally of the telegraphic fraternity, met at the Mayor's office for the purpose of doing honor to the memory of the late Prof. Morse. After several gentlemen had made speeches expressive of their heart-felt regard for the eminent deceased, the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That in the death of Professor Morse the entire civilized world has suffered an irreparable loss, and a loss that nations yet to be civilized will in time appreciate.

Resolved, That we of the Iron City have special cause to mourn the death of one to whose invention so much of our greatness and prosperity is due.

Resolved, That we unite with the cities of our country in sincere expressions of regret at our common bereavement.

The resolutions were adopted and ordered to be telegraphed to the National Association sitting simultaneously in Washington, D. C., and the meeting adjourned.

Capias Cases.

Jeremiah Holland, a resident of Virgin alley, yesterday instituted suit for damages against John Moore, John Stack and Nathan Gibbons, three police officers, who entered his dwelling a few weeks ago, without a warrant, and arrested him and his family for disorderly conduct. The parties were recently tried in the Quarter Sessions, for assault and battery, and convicted. They gave bail in $1,000 each.

Wm. Moore yesterday entered suit for damages against Patrick Kenney, alleging that Patrick beat him unmercifully with a bar of iron, in Graff, Bennett & Co.'s mill, on the 20th of March, breaking both arms and fracturing the right leg. Bail required in $2,500.

Dorothea Eirich sued John Hein for damages sustained by slanderous words uttered—it being alleged that Hein made remarks derogating to her character for virture. Bail demanded in $500.

An Odd Levy.

Yesterday Albert Allen appeared before Alderman McMaste s and charged John N. Hallett, a constable at Elizabeth, with misdemeanor in office. Hallett was directed to make a levy for debt on the prosecutors goods and chattels. This he did, and, as alleged, the property was assessed as worth $105. Mr. Allen claimed the protection of the $300 law, but the constable defied it, and sold the goods. Officer Blondin has gone in pursuit of the energetic constable.

Personal.

Dr. Francis Tumblety, whose success as a medical practitioner in our midst some years since was marked, has again visited our city and opened an office at 188 Liberty street. During his absence he has visited the most prominent points of interest in the various countries of Europe, China, Australia, India and the diamond fields of Africa. In his travels the doctor has made the acquaintance of many notables of the old world, among whom we may mention Earl De Gray, Lord Stanley, Sir Edward Thornton, Lord Headley, Charles Dickens and others. Armed with a letter of introduction from the late President Lincoln, the doctor was enabled to move in the highest circles. Following is a copy of the letter:

WASHINGTON, June 12, 1863.

DEAR SIR: The bearer of this, Francis Tumblety, M. D., an esteemed friend of mine, is about to visit London for the first time, and will, consequently, be a stranger in your metropolis. Any attention which you may extend to him will be gratefully appreciated by

Your friend and humble servant,
ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

To Hon. John Russell.

The doctor has also letters from Horace Greeley, Professor S. F. B. Morse, Professor Willard Parker, General Sherman, the late Gen. R. E. Lee, ex-Gov. Joseph E. Brown, of Georgia, and other distinguished personages of America, who unite in indorsement of his skill and gentlemanly bearing.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17, 1872.

GEN. HARTRANFT's nomination is heartily indorsed by the Republican papers of the State, with some three or four exceptions, and these we expect to see coming unto his support, as the only thing they can consistently do as supporters of GRANT.

THE Allegheny county Republican Executive Committee met yesterday afternoon, and fixed the time for holding the convention to nominate a county ticket. There will be six conventions of one delegate from each precinct in the county. The primary meetings will be held on Saturday, May 25th, and the conventions on Tuesday the 28th.

THE friends of Captain MCCLELLAN, member of Congress from the Lawrence District, claim for him the inside track for the Democratic Gubernatorial nomination. This may be a sanguine estimate of chances, but it seems to be a fact that General CASS has a formidable competitor in MCCLELLAN. The convention will be held in the city of Reading on the 31th instant.

THERE will be a counter-blast to the SCHURZ-TRUMBULL-GREELEY meeting in New York to-night. The supporters of GRANT will come out on their strength, and it will be an altogether different affair from that on Friday night last, when a few dissatisfied Republicans did the talking and a crowd of Democrats the hurrahing. Senator WILSON will be one of the speakers, and reply to TRUMBULL's attack on the administration.

WHEN a Republican, nominated at Cincinnati, becomes the Democratic Presidential candidate, hundreds and thousands of the better class of Democrats will declare for GRANT. When it comes to choosing between Republicans, they will exercise the right freely. The Chicago Tribune already perceives this, and does not hesitate to say that it expects to see the voters "all mixed up." This evidently is a contingency which has not been generally considered by the engineers of the Cincinnati movement.

IF it is not impertinent we would like to ask the Pittsburgh Post what it thinks of the Cincinnati programme, and of the way things generally in the Democratic party are drifting just now. How does it relish the idea of supporting a Republican for President, and what does it think of the idea of allowing the party to be dictated to by GREELEY, TRUMBULL, etc., etc. For it is to this complexion that matters are rapidly turning. It was not a month ago that the Post expressed the greatest confidence of electing a Democratic President, and was anxious to have the ball open. The Democratic leaders have determined that there shall be no Democratic candidate, and agreed to turn the party in for a Republican nominated by Republicans. We merely want to know what the Post thinks of it.

THE Chicago Tribune is for Senator TRUMBULL as most worthy to receive the Cincinnati nomination, and declares thus early that everybody, or so nearly everybody that the others won't amount to much, is going to Cincinnati, "greeting LYMAN TRUMBULL as their champion and their guide in the great battle in 1872." When Mr. TRUMBULL becomes the accepted of the Reformers, it will be the New York Tribune's time to declare what is its opinion of him now. We know what it was in 1868, at the close of the impeachment trial. We quote the following specimens:

"No Senator has been more earnest than Mr. Trumbull in his discrimination of the President's crime, or more consistent in his votes against his policy. These votes were given under the sanction of an oath. That oath is no less binding than the one which makes him a member of the Court of Impeachment. If Mr. Trumbull now thinks that President Johnson has been guilty of no crime, then we are to understand that his course for the last three years has been that of a heedless partisan. To vote against President Johnson on every question of policy under the sanction of his oath as Senator, and then to vote to acquit him of every wrong, is a very serious proceeding. We do not know what the legal definition of such a course would be, but to us it looks like what the lawyers would definite as perjury." * * * "

"A word now of Senator TRUMBULL. He never gave his Republican colleagues a hint of his hostility to impeachment up to the moment of his unmasking on Monday of this week. * * * We are assured that his Democratic son had quietly made bets through third parties, by which he expects to win $5,000 by his father's resistance to impeachment. * * * If there be more traitors nestling in its bosom (the Republican Party's) is it too much to ask them to come to the light."

GEN. GRANT AND HIS OPPONENTS.

In recent political developments we confess ourselves quite unable to perceive any signs sufficient to justify anxiety on the part of the supporters of the Administration, or confidence on the part of its impugners. The enlightened common sense of the American people is the tribunal to which each of the parties in the controversy makes its appeal, and whatever may be the faults or deficiencies of the court, we do not believe that, with time and opportunity for inquiry and reflection, it is going to withdraw its trust from General GRANT on account of any reasons which it is in the power of his opponents to allege. Nothing is better understood than that General GRANT neither sought for nor desired the high office to which the people elected him. In the enjoyment of transcendent fame at home and abroad, regarded with affectionate admiration by his countrymen, whose liberality had provided him with a private fortune more than equal to his modest wants, he also held a place of high command suited to his tastes and qualifications, and with the duties of which he was familiar. As regards either pecuniary income or social importance it is not possible to believe that the position of President of the United States, especially in view of its immense responsibilities and hazards, seemed to him a place to be coveted. In fact, to accept the nomination and expose himself to the ordeal of an election, to be followed by the laborious and harrassing years of life in the White House, was in him an act of generous and patriotic self-renunciation; an act parallel to that of WASHINGTON, when, in response to JEFFERSON's earnest representation that his reelection to the onerous position which he had filled for one term was essential to the safety of the Republic, he said, "with the simplicity of a great, and with the self-denial of a good man:" "If you believe my retention of power necessary, I will consent."

Certainly we do not refer to General GRANT's sacrifice in accepting the office as a reason why he should be re-elected for a second term. Such reasoning would be puerile. But the fact is remembered by the people among the many services of the man whom they delight to honor. The act enters into their estimate of his character, and has a fitting place among the grounds of their gratitude for what he has done for them; and surely it is not forgotten among the reasons which forbid them on futile or insufficient motives to slight or dishonor the man to whom they owe so much. It may be, we may admit, better to limit the tenure of the Presidential office to a single term. Strong arguments in favor of the change are easily found, and the statesmen who remodeled our National Constitution for the benefit of the late Confederacy gave their patriotic sanction to the improvement. But with us the President is still re-eligible, and in recollection of familiar historical precedents, the refusal to re-elect an incumbent is the most decisive and unmitigated condemnation of his administration. This is, no doubt, keenly felt by General GRANT, and if he were either above or below the feeling, he would be unworthy of the popular confidence and admiration. The people, therefore, acknowledge that in honor, justice and good feeling General GRANT is entitled to re-election, unless he happens in some way or other to have forfeited his claim upon them for such an indorsement of his character and conduct while in office. The charge of forfeiture must also be clearly and conclusively made out. Intelligent people well know that the office is one which imposes very complicated and difficult duties upon him who fills it, and that in the discharge of them offenses must needs arise. Why, the mere thought of the perils environing him is enough to make even a man of nerve suffer a sympathetic shiver. For the President to breathe is to make enemies; and from the nature of the applications and temptations to which he is exposed, and which he has to reject, his enemies are not the weak and the obscure, but powerful and intellectually gifted men, whose anger may soon be felt in every nook and corner of the land. True, he makes friends as well as enemies; but Archbishop FRENCH was not the first to point out how much more potent and effective is the spirit of evil than is the spirit of good in this wicked world. The Italian proverb says: "If thou hast fifty friends, they are too few; if thou hast one enemy, it is too many." When a personal enemy is able to clothe himself in the raiment of public spirit and useful reform, his panoply may impart to his malignity all the energy of a virtue, and he wages his warfare with extraordinary advantages.

We do not, however, mean to say or insinuate that all Republicans hostile to General GRANT's re-election are influenced by personal animosity. Any allegation of the kind would be absurd and wicked, as it would impugn the motives of some of the most worthy men in the land, who have honestly come to the conclusion that the interests of the country require a change of administration. But nothing can be more evident than that this anti-GRANT or "up to Cincinnati movement" has originated with a comparatively small number of discontented leaders, and has no deep-running and wide-reaching roots in the popular heart. The great Republican party manifestly still retains its confidence in its great chief, and while recognizing and admitting his mistakes fully believes that he and his associates have upon the whole carried out its policy as well as could have been reasonably expected. Look at the meeting of last Friday evening in New York, and at the speeches there delivered by Senators TRUMBULL and SCHURZ. Whoever happens to know somewhat of the population of the metropolis must have noticed that in the long list of officers of the meeting the people of the city were not represented. Respectable names, doubtless, but an undue proportion of strange and unfamiliar vocables! Then as to the speeches, it is fair to assume that in them the cause of the opposition was presented as clearly and powerfully as it could have been by any of its adherents. Senator TRUMBULL is surely a very able as well as an honest man, and yet we suppose that to most candid and well informed Republican readers of his speech the arraignment of the Administration therein made seems by no means overwhelming or destructive. Indeed, much of it if issuing from a less learned and less commanding mouth than TRUMBULL's, would seem frivolous and inconsequential if viewed as criticism of General GRANT. These epithets certainly belong to those remarks touching the President's military household, etc. Much of the rest of the speech is quite legitimate criticism of the Republican party, and does not particularly affect the Administration, the acts and measures criticised having received either the express or silent approval of the party throughout the country. Many of the Senator's reproaches are surely well worthy of being heeded in the future action of the party.

Senator SCHURZ's speech is a masterly specimen of exposition and invective; but however impressive to a sympathetic hearer or reader, it is hardly destined to exert much influence on the popular thought. The truth is that one feels when reading it that Senator SCHURZ could make quite as effective a speech on the other side of the subject, or even on the same side, though the conduct of the Administration had been immaculate. The Senator is a great rhetorician as well as a great logician, and his ideal of political purity and administrative perfection is so lofty that, like the old gentleman about whom GOETHE writes in his memoirs, he would probably find some things open to objection in the administration of Paradise. The effect of the Senator's speech as an assault on the Administration is also much weakened by the evident intensity of his personal dislike of its chief—a disclosure which even the orator's admirers cannot help interpreting, however unjustly, as furnishing a partial explanation of the vehemence of his opposition.

Won't Bear Examination.

[From the N. Y. Times.]

There has seldom been a more transparent fraud attempted than the parade of the long list of officers of the Cincinnati meeting, on Friday night, as "Reformers." The idea of associating most of these men with any reform movement, is simply ridiculous. With a respectable name here and there, the mass of the persons figuring in the list are either those who now hold office under Tammany Hall, persons who have been removed from office under the administration of General Grant, persons who have in vain sought places under it, or those who, for one cause or another, have their own individual grievances. Besides those who, with Mr. Greeley, were among the signers of the letter to Mr. Grosvenor, we recognize not more than half a dozen names of persons of standing who do not come within the classes named. There are Charles H. Marshall, Alfred Pell, and Seth B. Hunt, who are willing to join any movement which looks to free trade, whether it is under the lead of a renegade Protectionist or not. John A. Dix, Enoch L. Fancher, John K. Porter, G. C. Satterlee, and George C. Collins are men whom we sincerely regret to see lending their names to the Cincinnati movement, if they really do so. We say "if they really do so," for General Joseph C. Jackson has written to say that his name was used without authority, and we know from private information that the names of John A. C. Gray, Andrew W. Leggatt, and Isaac Sherman were used without their knowledge or consent, and that two at least of these gentlemen are actively for Grant. We have reason to believe that the same is true of a good many others.

Gen. Cass Will Not Do.

The Titusville Courier, the leading Democratic paper in the oil regions, dissents decidedly from the proposition that Gen. Cass is the man to receive the Democratic nomination for Governor, and rebukes the Pittsburgh Post for the suggestion. It says:

"We feel quite confident that his nomination would be equivalent to a thorough rout of the Democracy in the October election. We have no personal animosity against General Cass. He is a fine scholar and an able man. But we say to the Post and to all others who favor his nomination, that he is not the man for us. His identification with railroad rings will be fatal to him and to the Democratic party. We must, if we would succeed, put forward some other man. A railroad candidate will be the death of us. Mark the prediction.

In another article the Courier says: "We tell our Democratic friends that they cannot afford to jeopardize the success of their party and cherished principles by placing any man upon their State ticket who is in any way connected with railroad and other corporations. We have tight here in this little corner of Pennsylvania nearly forty thousand votes, which will be cast almost as a unit for that candidate who is altogether independent of ring influences."

The Clarion Democrat coincides in this view, and says:

"The Democrats of the northwest have no particular preference—neither have we indulged in "wholesale abuse" of any candidate. The Democracy of this county felt favorable to Gen. Cass, but since his name has became associated with the Improvement Company monopolies, we think he is not as available as other gentlemen whose names have been mentioned."

The State Convention and the Hon. Francis Jordan.

[From the Harrisburg Telegraph.]

At a convention where so many things are done in so short a time it is quite common for some things to be misunderstood, and sometimes injustice done. The reflection attempted to be cast on Mr. Jordan, in one or two newspapers, because he declined to allow the use of his name for Governor in the recent convention, is as ridiculous as it is unjust. When it was made to appear by the meeting of Hartranft's friends in caucus that between seventy and eighty of the delegates could be relied on to nominate him for Governer, his selection on the first ballot was assured. Colonel Jordan cared nothing for a mere complimentary vote, and had to submit to the inevitable, and did it by declining to allow the use of his name. Subsequently sundry friends of Hartranft placed Mr. Jordan in nomination for Supreme Judge, out of an appreciation of his strength, character and ability, and supported him in good faith. Mr. Jordan had no knowledge of this. His own friends did not even co-operate in the movement, not regarding him as a candidate for that office, which he was not. We were on the ground, had ample opportunities to see and know what was done, and we know whereof we affirm.

Pennsylvania contains no more honest man, upright citizen, able and sagacious statesman than Hon. Francis Jordan. We believe his name would be a tower of strength to any ticket and we should have been exceedingly pleased to have seen him one of our standard bearers this year.

Boots and Shoes for Japan.

There has been for a few years past a small but growing trade in shoes for the Japanese, amounting, probably, to $100,000 the past year, done mostly by merchants who have business connections with that country, and who send out a variety of goods to that market, including, among other things, a line of sewed work, mostly, though a small quantity of pegged work has been sent out. Brogans and similar styles of goods are most generally expected. Would it not be well for some of our Eastern manufacturers to send samples of their goods to that country through the embassy now here investigating all the principal industries of the country? We believe that in two cases samples of goods have been sent, through New York houses, of a certain line of work made by two of our largest Eastern manufacturers, and that prices have been named so low on those specimens that it is thought European manufacturers cannot successfully compete with them. The goods are, however, materially different from those usually sold in the Eastern markets, being much lighter, better finished and more dressy looking, and not so heavy in material and substantial in workmanship as the work heretofore sent. For this class of goods we can, with our improved machinery, skilled workmen and division of labor, defy the competition of any European manufacturers, notwithstanding the great difference in wages.—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

Winthrop W. Ketcham.

[From the Reading Times and Dispatch.]

Winthrop W. Ketcham will be gratefully remembered by the Republican party for his manliness in accepting, as gracefully as he did, his defeat for the Gubernatorial nomination, and his readiness to do battle for the successful candidate. He is a man, every inch of him, of the most sterling character and unspotted reputation, and of great breadth of mind—an honor to his State, and a gentleman who would adorn any position within the gift of his party. In his endorsement of the action of the late Republican State Convention, he has shown a good deal more sense than have some of his partisans. His example is worthy of imitation, and his party fealty deserving of appropriate reward.

THE Philadelphia Press warmly commends the selection made by the Republican Convention for Delegates at Large to the Constitutional Convention, and adds: "The Convention will doubtless sit in Philadelphia. Its session, beginning in November, will not, perhape, extend over three months; but even this short term would run it into the Legislative season at Harrisburg early in January, so that it would be impossible for the Reform Convention to deliberate at the State Capital. By common consent, therefore, Philadelphia will be selected."

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

This is a pretty fancy: Miss Hunt, in her "Bits of Travel," speaking of the mistletoe berries, says they are lovely, and adds: "If a white currant were to marry a snowberry, their babies would be like these."

"In time of peace prepare for war." Two immense Rodman guns, weighing over twenty-five tons each, are being landed at Mobile, to be added to the armament of Fort Morgan. They are fifteen and a half feet in length, four feet and a half in diameter, have a bore of fifteen inches, and will throw a solid shot weighing 480 pounds. Six guns of the same class have been mounted at Fort Jefferson, Dry Tortugas.

Is this a sermon? Twelve years ago Hon. F. C. Wipple was a brilliant and prosperous lawyer in Howell, Mich. Last week he died of intemperance, and was buried out of the Masonic charity fund, from which for some time before his death he had been supported. During this time his beautiful and accomplished wife has become insane, and his four lovely children are penniless and scattered, no two living together.

During the present season there are 24 Atlantic steamers running from Montreal and Quebec, 142 from New York, 4 from Philadelphia, 8 from Baltimore, and 20 from New Orleans. This immense fleet of ocean steamers is almost exclusively owned and controlled by foreign capitalists, to the exclusion of American built vessels. What does Congress think about it?

New York papers speak in glowing terms of the trade of the present month. European imports are said to be more than usually large, and the stock now offering of dry goods very attractive. What is true of New York is also true of all our commercial cities.

A narrow-gauge railroad convention is to be held in St. Louis on the 19th of next June. The movement is regarded as of great importance to all persons interested in the narrow-gauge theory. Officers of the narrow-gauge roads, dealers in narrow-guage materials, and railroad engineers are specially invited.

Some of the California papers advance the theory that the late earthquakes, instead of being caused by internal forces, were the result of electric currents moving on the earth's surface, and that the iron railroad tracks were the conductors of the electricity that caused them.

A Connecticut company is putting up a factory for the building of carriages made entirely of India-rubber, except in the axles and tires. A decided superiority is claimed for the material over wood, but perhaps it is stretched a little.

Kansas expects shortly to engage largely in salt manufacture, owing to the promising saline indications in a number of counties.

The Supreme Court of Massachusetts has decided that a man who, with notice and opportunity to meet the charge, allows a divorce to be obtained against him upon the ground of any condition of mind or body or religious associations, which by law renders him unfit for the marriage state, is not to be granted leave by the Court to marry again, without proof that he has changed his condition in this respect.

An insane man who left his home in Michigan about a year ago has since been traveling about under the impression that he was somebody else, but retaining at the same time a peculiar interest in his real self. He would write home to his wife occasionally inquiring after her husband, being especially anxious to learn whether he had "got over his crazy spell or not." He was traced from place to place for nearly a year before his friends could come up with him.

The New York Methodist Conference had a lively discussion last week on the use of tobacco. A resolution having been offered urging the younger members of the conference to abstain from the use of the weed, a motion was made to amend by striking out the word "younger." Rev. Mr. Richardson defended chewing and smoking, as medicants, in cases of certain bodily ailments. After some remarks from brethren holding to the opposite view, the resolution was passed in a form which makes it applicable to young and old alike.

The public enterprises of Baltimore, according to the American, are the following: We have undertaken to spend $2,500,000 on the improvement of Jones's Falls; we are able to give $500,000 for deepening and widening the ship channel in the Patapsco; Patterson Park is to be enlarged and beautified at a cost of $200,000; another $500,000 is to go for the completion of the new City Hall; we have stipulated to give an aid to the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad that only the future can determine what it may cost us, whilst the list is made up by the virtual subscription of nearly $500,000 to the Western Maryland Railroad. In round numbers here are $4,200,000 to be expended on objects that of themselves are worthy of the amount appropriated for each.

The Herald says: "The indications from Washington are that a strong pressure is to be made upon the Administration for the withdrawal of the case as submitted at Geneva."

A late Havana letter says: "The prospect of the sugar crop so far is very good, and all the plantations are busy grinding, still I would not be surprised if the sugar for export didn't reach a much larger figure than that of 1871, which amounted to 2,879,888 boxes. Should the weather continue fine through a month and a half longer, and the grinding not interrupted by early rains, it is quite safe to count upon a yield of 3,500,000 boxes.

The Arizona Miner is evidently in earnest. It says: "Arizona's blood is up. Our people have borne with Apaches, Mexicans, Indian sympathizers and their subsidized tools long enough, and the first thing those villainous rascals know will be that forbearance has ceased to be a virtue. The Mexican residents of this Territory can control the cold-blooded assassins of Sonora, or, at least, notify us of their presence, and, unless they do so in future, a terrible retribution awaits them and the people of the State from which they came. Sonora is not far off, and even now Americans, with clenched teeth, threaten vengeance upon that State for the many murders and robberies committed by its blanketed cut-throats. Look well to the South, Arizonians!"

The success of the machinists' and coal miners' strike in England seems to have spirited all classes of workingmen there to agitate the nine hour movement. The infection has reached the railroad porters, and in one or two cities the policemen. The petition urging Parliament to enact a nine hour labor law is being universally signed by the laboring classes, while in case of its failure to pass and a general strike of all trades, negotiations with French, German and Swiss workingmen's unions are in progress, looking to a prevention of the English markets being supplied from the continent and the "bull" movement of the poor being broken. The advance in the various lines of foreign manufactures is severely felt here.

The Batavia (N. Y.) Advocate says: "A vast amount of apprehension has been felt throughout the 'Genesee Country' in regard to the wheat crop, but almost every farmer concurs in saying that it bids fair to be a magnificent crop. The steadily intense cold of last winter has produced no damage at all, and the prospects, some farmers tell us, have not been as good in the last ten years."

Mr. Cramer, the United States Minister to Denmark.

Mr. C. H. Wolff, a gentleman of high standing in Cincinnati, ably defends Mr. Cramer, United States Minister to Denmark, who has been the subject of much unfavorable remark. All this he declares is the result of a conspiracy to prejudice Gen. Grant abroad. After giving a very favorable sketch of Mr. Cramer's life, Mr. Wolff introduces a letter dated Copenhagen, March, 25, 1872, as follows:

"United States Minister Cramer never said or read a word about the Catacazy affair to the Russian Minister here. The German Minister distinctly denies that such proceeding ever occurred at his house at a dinner, as has been reported and circulated. Nor has the Russian government ever sent a 'circular note' to the Berlin government on the subject. These are all unfounded and malicious reports, invented and 'gotten up' for the purpose of injury to both the President and Minister Cramer, intending also to revenge the Catacazy conduct and request for his recall. Neither is there any truth as to the report of the dissatisfaction of the Danish government with Mr. Cramer; the Danish Minister for Foreign Affairs at a recent reception branded it as a falsehood. The United States Minister associates with the best people, never has been seen or heard of in improper place, and his habits are the very best. On public occasions, parties, receptions, etc., all honor is paid him and Mrs. Cramer, and their dress is tasteful and in perfect harmony with their means and station. Both are discreet and silent on all public and international affairs."

A LETTER from Lima, Peru, says: "I have seen not a few wretched old duennas, part Indian, part negro and part Spaniard, as ugly as night, with only a single long cotton garment and an old poncho for a dress, who had the poncho clasped by a diamond brooch that the Queen of England would not disdain to wear. The sole ambition of the Lima lady, then, seems to be to outshine her neighbors' diamonds, and innumerable little jealousies arise from these attempts at display. The fair Limanian may be successful in all her little intrigues of State and of society—in which, indeed, she truly delights—and may revel in the most luxurious silks, satins and velvet; but poor indeed she considers herself, no matter what treasures she possesses, if she does not number among her valuables a casket of the rarest gems. Honor, poverty, famine—in fact, utter destruction—are nothing compared with the deprivation of brilliant baubles."

PERSONAL.

The recent death of Erastus Corning has suggested the following reminiscence: "Mr. Corning stood in 1865 the autocrat of the New York Central Road, but his Albany predilections were now becoming dangerous to him, and he soon perceived that a new and threatening rival was to appear in New York. This was Commodore Vanderbilt. In 1864 the commodore owned $500,000 in Central stock, and in the contest with Olcott he voted for Corning; but he saw that the interests of the road demanded important attention to the through traffic, and that Albany must be made a way station. Mr. Corning was notified that this policy should be adopted, but he could not sacrifice Albany, and as the commodore had obtained a controlling amount of stock he resigned in favor of Dean Richmond, whom Vanderbilt designated as his successor. It may be remarked that this change failed to suit the commodore. He found that Richmond was too much influenced by the consideration of local travel and freight, and did not comprehend the importance of giving the through business preference. For this reason he ordered Richmond to resign, and this sad warning, it is said, threw the latter into that fever which occasioned his death. Mr. Corning was aged seventy-eight, which is just the age of A. T. Stewart; Vanderbilt is a year older, and William B. Astor is close to four-score. James Lenox is seventy, E. D. Morgan is sixty, Peter Goelet is about the same age, George Law is seventy. Mr. Corning had two sons, one of whom is dead, and the surviver will have $8,000,000. E. D. Morgan also had two sons, of whom only one survives. Stewart is childless. Lenox is a bachelor. William B. Astor has three sons and two daughters. Vanderbilt has two sons and three daughters.

Referring to the statement that Jay Gould had recently conveyed to the widow of James Fisk the Opera House real estate, amounting in all to $1,800,000, a well informed correspondent says: "This is evidently incorrect. Fisk had purchased this property individually, and had it duly conveyed to himself by deed. It was his intention to own a complete block or square of New York property. Hence he purchased on credit, paying small amounts and giving mortgages for the remainder. All of this property is now in the widow's hands as executrix of the will, and she will sell it as soon as possible. It will, however, suffer heavy loss. Real estate has declined seriously, and the loss on these purchases will not be less than $300,000; that is, if they are pressed upon the market. The opinion is still maintained that Fisk's estate will prove insolvent. The statement to which I have referred may have arisen from the report that the Erie offices are about to be removed to the original building down town, and that the lease of the Opera House may be cancelled on the score of fraud. Mrs. Fisk will have no small amount of trouble with the estate, and it will be years before it will reach a final settlement."

Walter McLean, of Harlem, N. Y., fifteen years of age, has been appointed by the President, a cadet at the Naval Academy. The Washington Chronicle says of him: "Graduating at Hartford Academy, Md., and having a passionate desire to become a cadet, he determined to obtain an appointment, if possible, and that, too, without the knowledge of his relatives and without the assistance of his friends. By personal application he received hearty recommendations from Commodore Vanderbilt, Judge Ketchum and other men of influence in New York, and starting for Washington proceeded at once to the White House, and after some delay obtained an interview with the President. His frank countenance, and youthful but determined bearing won the President's favor, and after consulting the Secretary of the Navy upon the subject, it was decided to give young McLean an appointment as above stated.

Attention, city fathers. The Dubuque Telegraph passes its edict that cholera is a crime, for the reason that it can be prevented if people will only pay proper attention to sanitary relations.

The Price of Health.

Like that of liberty, is eternal vigilance. The vapor-laden air of spring exercises a depressing influence on the vital powers. The strongest feel this devitalizing effect; the weak are prostrated by it. Everybody is more or less debilitated at this season, and the feeble instinctively seek the help of medicine. Unfortunately, the "remedy" resorted to sometimes aggravates the mischief. Raw stimulants are eminently pernicious in such cases, and drastic cathartics about as bad. The vital principle needs succor and support, and a reinforcing preparation that will tone and rouse, while it regulates and purifies the system, is the medicine that nature demands. All the medicinal elements required for such emergencies are combined in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the purest and most efficacious vegetable elixir that the world has ever known. It is a mild stimulant, a powerful tonic, an unequalled appetizer, an absolute specific for diseased digestion, a wonderful nervine, a moderate cathartic, a remedy for liver complaints and periodic fevers, a cure for constipation, a specific for rheumatism, of essential use in all ailments to which the feebler sex are subject, and as a general household medicine unequalled and unapproached. These are the properties which have made Hostetter's Bitters famous everywhere. See to it, however, that you have the true article, for the land is infested with swarms of local bitters, made from condemned liquors and worthless drugs, which greedy wretches who speculate on human life recommend as panaceas for every ill that flesh is heir to. Beware of the charlatans and their poisons.

FINANCE AND TRADE

TUESDAY EVENING, April 16, 1872.

The beginning of the end appears to be at hand, and surprising to relate, there are some indications of approaching ease in the money market. Not that any such ease is yet with us, but the fearful stringency of the past fortnight appears to be lessening a little and the signs all prognosticate better days in the near coming future.

The banks of the neighboring cities are manifesting less of a borrowing inclination, and in some few instances are running up their balances to a figure respectable at any time, and now doubly acceptable on account of the extensive, and at the same time entirely legitimate, demand which our banks are called upon to fill for their immediate customers.

The iron interests especially exhibit a want of money, which want would, at the present writing, be abnormal were it not for the large purchases of material which the iron workers have recently made in apprehension of a further rise in that indispensable commodity. This anticipation is not without reason, for, as a single instance in point, we can quote one Pittsburgh concern, whose mines are in the Superior region, who have contracts for the entire product of their mines during the coming season at the prices of to-day, which product they expect confidently to be nearly if not quite one hundred thousand tons.

Our iron commission houses, too, are taxed to the utmost of their ability to make advances upon consignments, and state the advances already made, not simply in thousands or tens of thousands, but in hundreds of thousands. A single house of this character claims to have advanced to its customers nearly half a million of dollars within the past sixty days.

Gold rules up to eleven per cent. premium, higher than it has touched for a long period; but this is to be attributed rather to the legitimate demand induced by spring importations than to any speculative or financial movement.

—Erie "caves" another dollar to-day, and parties here who bought on speculation largely, we are advised, telegraphed their correspondents in New York to-day to close out their ventures.

—Messrs. Ira B. McVay & Co. report the following quotations of Government bonds in New York to-day, as furnished them by Jay Cooke & Co., their correspondents:

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, TUESDAY, April 17, 1872.

REMARKS—The day was cold and disagreeable, as unlike spring as a kangaroo is to the rhinoceros. PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, TUESDAY EVENING, April 16, 1872.

Cattle.

The arrivals of cattle this week so far have been light, and in quality are rather inferior. A fair number of buyers are in attendance, and with favorable advices both from New York and Philadelphia, trade is more active than it generally is at this time of the week. Prices are firm, ¼ to ½c higher than last week, and the prospect looks favorable. Following are the rates: Extra, 1,400 to 1,500 ℔ steers $7 to $7 25; good to prime, 1,200 to 1,300 ℔ steers, $6 50 to $6 75; common to medium, 1,000 to 1,100 ℔ steers, $5 50 to $6 25; bulls, stags and cows, 800 to 1,500, $4 to $5; stock steers, $4 75 to $5 00; Texas steers, $4 25 to $5 50.

Hogs.

The receipts of hogs this week so far have been a little more than an ordinary run. The market is inactive and but few hogs are selling. Prices remain unchanged since our last report. A load of prime sold for $5 ꝑ hundred ℔s, but the majority of sales are made from $4 75 to $4 90. Following are the rates: Extra Philadelphia, $5 00; prime Philadelphia, $4 75a4 90; Yorkers, $4 50a4 55.

Sheep.

The receipts of sheep this week have been very light. The market is good and sales are made of stock about as fast as it arrives. A load of prime 108 ℔s sheep from Washington county sold yesterday for $9 75 per hundred ℔s. To-night there remains nothing over unsold, and with a demand largely in excess of the supply the market is a little excited, and buyers are paying big prices to get stock. Following are the rates current for the different grades and kinds, as bought and sold here: Extra, 100 to 110 ℔s, sheep sell from $9 25 to $9 50; good to prime, 85 to 90 ℔s, $8 75a9 00; decent to fair, 75 to 80 ℔s, $7 25a7 75; common, $6 50a7 25.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, April 16.—There is little or no change to notice in the features of the market. Business with jobbers continues moderately active at steady and firm prices; but with agents trade is rather quiet, while prices are very firm, in sympathy with raw material. The market on the whole presents a healthy aspect, for without bustle or excitement a fair amount of goods are going into the channels of trade at uniform rates. Printing cloths have been liberally dealt in all season, on speculative account, and have commanded extreme prices. Owing to the meager supply, available at any time, but few spot goods can be secured now below 9c, and large contracts for future delivery have been made ahead at 8¾c, if not more. In prints, consequently, there is little or no margin at 11¾ or 12c, at which the best makes are selling, while Dolly Vardens command 12¾a13c. Percales, lawns and organdies, in good styles, continue in good request at full previous rates. Printed delaines seem to have gone entirely out fashion, while mixtures of alpacas, Dolly Vardens and lusters have taken the r place, and meet with ready sale at from 22 to 27¾c. Plain and colored cottons are steady and in good request.

Cincinnati	Argosy, Goodwin, 4 P. M.
Wheeling	Carrie Brooks, Darlington, 12 M.

THE marks last evening indicated eight feet and falling slowly. The weather was pleasant. Trade on the landing was not active, freights being scarce.

THE wharf was bare of towboats yesterday—rather an unusual occurrence.

CAPT. PHILLIPS has taken charge of the steamer Geneva, in the Pittsburgh and Brownsville trade.

THE steamer Granite State, Capt. Kerr, will be here to leave on time for Portsmouth on Friday.

THE steamer Julia No. 2, Captain Stull, left for Zanesville on time with a fair trip.

THE Warner is loading her barges with ore for the Ohio.

THE steamer Juniata, Captain C. S. Brennan, was announced to leave Cincinnati for this port on Monday.

THE flags on the steamers in port were at half-mast as a token of respect to the memory of Capt. Thomas H. Golding.

CAPTAIN DAN BRADY will command the Katie P. Kountz. Captain R. C. Mason goes on the John F. Tolle.

THE steamer Mary Davage, Capt. G. W. Motheralt, is announced for St. Louis on Thursday. Shippers will bear this in mind.

AT Winona, Minnesota, and along the Winona and St. Peter Railroad, there is stored, awaiting the opening of navigation, 650,910 bushels of grain.

THE fine steamer Shamrock, Capt. Killen, is announced for Cincinnati on Thursday. Passengers and shippers will make their arrangements accordingly.

THE steamer Carrie Brooks, Captain Darlington, leaves this day at 12 M. for Wheeling and Parkersburg. Passengers and shippers will bear this in mind. The clerks are Messrs. Caldwell and Kirker.

THE fine passenger steamer Exchange, Captain E. Evans, is announced for Evansville, Cairo and St. Louis. Passengers and shippers will bear this in mind.

THE Alice Dean and Alaska paid $1 50 a box for coal and $6 a cord for wood at New Orleans, and $1 a box for coal at Natchez, Vicksburg and White river, and 80 cents at Memphis. Wood can be had in the bends for about $3 percord.

THE punctual steamer Argosy, Captain B. F. Goodwin, is announced for Cincinnati and way points this day. Persons going that way will be well cared for on this boat. Our esteemed friend C. B. Russell will do the honors of the office.

THE U. S. Mail packets on the slackwater leave daily at 8 A. M. and 5 P. M. These boats are sidewheelers, and were built expressly for the trade, and are in charge of careful and attentive officers. For further information call on Captain A. S. Carlile on the wharfboat.

CAPTAIN JAMES CROOK launched a boat at Hood's Landing, Arkansas, on Little river, on the 29th of March. Her dimensions are as follows: length, 135 feet; breadth of beam, 27 feet, and 3 feet in the clear of the hold. She is called the "Royal George," and will only draw 10 inches with fuel and water on board.

KENTUCKY river is reported higher than since 1832. In the upper end it has overflowed many bottom farms, drowning cattle, hogs and other stock. Great damage has also been done by the sudden rise to rafts of logs, railroad ties and flatboats. At the landing of the Red River Iron Works the water rose 15 feet in 6 hours.

THE iron steamer John T. Moore carried 2,185 bales of cotton into New Orleans from Red river, last Wednesday, 1,650 of which were from the Cherokee Nation, above the raft, and upon which charges were over $12,000. She reports that nearly all the cotton from upper Red river has been forwarded to Shreveport.

WHILE the Great Republic was at Vicksburg recently, three young gents from the "rural districts" went aboard of her to see the "sights," and, upon reaching the boiler deck, asked the price of admission. A hackman near at hand told them one dollar each, which they complained of as being too high, when they offered fifty cents a piece, which was accepted.

THE St. Louis Democrat, of Saturday, says: Capt. D. Campbell arrived yesterday from St. Charles, commanding a barge. Ben. Johnson acted as pilot, and the time made was eleven hours. Capt. Campbell owned the barge, and sold it to the Iron Mountain Company. It has been fitted up with machinery, pumps, &c., and will be used to wash ore at the Carondelet dump.

THE Anna left Shreveport on the 6th. "The Cincinnati steamer Anna, sunk in Red river some two weeks ago, and subsequently raised, came down yesterday from Jefferson, looking not much the worse for her partial submersion. She proposes to wend her way to her old headquarters, which we hope she will reach without any more of those disasters that attend those who 'go down to the sea in great ships' or frail steamboats."

THE following is a report of the United States District Court at New Orleans last Wednesday: "The Court yesterday refused to allow a reduction of the bond in the suit of Parsglove vs. the steamer Juniata. The Commissioner's report in the case of Cyrus Bussy vs. the steamer Colossal having been filed, all persons interested are ordered to show cause why the proceeds should not be distributed therewith. In the case of the Merchants' Insurance Company vs. the steamer Sabine, it was decreed that the various officers of the boat receive the amounts due them for wages.

Still on the Underwriters.

To the Editor of the St. Louis Times:

Circumstances have temporarily forbidden my following up the all important matter of the discriminations against the commerce of St. Louis by this inanimate board of underwriters, who, not satisfied with their already ruinous policy, lose no opportunity in their councils to make new rules placing additional restrictions upon our marine necessities, and blindly damaging the greatest interest to St. Louis, and at the same time so circumventing themselves about that they will hang themselves with the instruments manufactured to whip into submission the outside steamboat and barge owners, as they are called, regardless of the immense sacrifices to them, and our merchants generally. The subject is of the deepest interest to us all, and this institution must not congratulate themselves that we are idle; not by any means. This board will yet awaken to the realization that their acts of palpable injustice to the many to strengthen and build up a few will not do. In councils, carrying with them such important results, all having any interest in transportation should be included, and none should be permitted to sit in judgment upon others' property, possibly to be condemned for their own personal benefit. In such councils should be men who have steamboat sense enough to know what is required to meet the urgent necessities of this city, and not men as ignorant of them as babes, and dependent upon the decision of any one or more for their action, and influenced by the more cunning ones to execute their designs in this outrageous imposition.

Mark the feeling expressions from the merchant shippers of bulk grain, &c., &c.: "That the interest of underwriters and boat and barge owners are so interwoven that the most unfair discriminations are made against everything that comes in competition with certain large organizations—well represented in this board—operating as a power behind the throne."

The remedies are coming, slowly but surely. If the New Orleans underwriter will announce himself ready for business he may rest assured business will be good. Myself and many others will move heaven and earth to secure for him, and all other underwriters who are coming, a rousing benefit, which will in time break down the monstrous impediment to our progress. SUBSCRIBER.

First Mortgage 7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds of the Milwaukee and Nashua Railway Co.,

At 90, and accrued interest from the 1st of November to date. This Bond is unusually strong being a combined Mortgage on all the Real Estate and Railroad Property of the Road; and each bondholder is further secured by the record of mortgage at the county seats through which the Road passes, and also vested in the Union Trust Company, of New York City,

As Trustees for bondholders. The Road is 130 miles long, and connects Milwaukee, Wisconsin, with the great Pacific Railroads, and terminates at St. Joseph, Missouri. It is one of the most profitable enterprises passing over a rich and populous country, making the shortest route and most important link between the great Lakes and the Pacific, as also all intermediate connections North and South. The Road is being rapidly constructed, and the amount of Bonds ($1,000 each) is limited in issue. The present price will be advanced as the construction progresses toward completion. For a more specific statement of the intrinsic value of these Bonds as a basis for safe investments send for Map Circular to the SAVINGS, DISCOUNT AND DEPOSIT BANK of

The records of the Insane Asylum, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion. The Constitution once affected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which "Holmes & Co.'s Mexican Fluid Extract Buchu" invariably does.

The British Counter Case and Protest Presented in Parliament.

LONDON, April 16.—Earl Granville laid before the House of Lords to-night the counter case and the note presented at Geneva yesterday by the agent on the part of Great Britain. He stated that when the accompanying note and protest was delivered, Davis, the agent on the part of the United States, said his instructions did not contemplate the probability of such a note. He, therefore, reserved for the government of the United States the right to vindicate the scope of the treaty of Washington. In the House of Commons Mr. Gladstone made a similar statement, and said he hoped soon to have a sufficient number of copies of the counter case and accompanying note for distribution among the members of Parliament.

Closing of the Hungarian Diet.

PESTH, April 16.—The session of the Hungarian Diet was closed to-day by the Emperor Francis Joseph in person. In his speech from the throne His Majesty dwelt with deep satisfaction on the five years' of successful working of the Austro-Hungarian compromise. During that time the prosperity of the country had been steadily increasing, the relations with foreign powers were on a good footing, and with peace at home and abroad there was every prospect that the business of the Kingdom would be uninterrupted.

MORSE MEMORIAL.

Services at National Capitol Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16, 1872.

The hall of the House of Representatives was densely crowded to-night, on the occasion of the memorial services in honor of the late Prof. Morse. The Speaker of the House presided, assisted by Vice President Colfax. The President and Cabinet, the Judges of the Supreme Court, together with Governors of States, in person or by proxy, occupied seats in the inner semi-circle. Senators and Representatives occupied other seats on the floor. On the clock in front of the main gallery was an oil painting by Bogardus and Bertain Brothers, of Prof. Morse, forwarded by those gentlemen, to be used on this occasion, by request of the Morse Memorial Association of this city. Around the outer frame of the portrait was the legend, "What hath God wrought?" The ceremonies were opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. W. Adams, of New York, when Speaker Blaine delivered a brief introductory speech. Resolutions appropriate to the occasion were read, and were seconded by Senator Patterson in eloquent remarks, which were rapturously applauded. Cyrus W. Field read telegrams from London, Cairo, Bombay, Batavia, Singapore and Hong Kong. Dispatches from Boston St. Louis, Augusta, Me., New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Montreal and a great number of other cities were also read. Fernando Wood, the only present member of Congress who voted for the first appropriation to aid Morse, gave a history of the electro-magnetic telegraph. Gen. Garfield followed in an eloquent address, and after music by the Marine Band, Hon. C. C. Cox, of Md., read a serious of resolutions eulogistic of the character of deceased as a man and one of the brightest stars in the firmament of science. Speeches were also made by Representatives Cox, Voorhees and Banks. A benediction by Chaplain Butler of the House closed the exercises at eleven o'clock.

MORMONDOM EXCITED.

Great Sensation Over the Decision of the Supreme Court—Indignity to an Apostate.

SALT LAKE, April 16.—The telegraphic announcement of the Supreme Court decision in the Englehart case this morning created great sensation. Gentiles and Liberals for a time scarcely credited the dispatch, but finally recognized that they had sustained a serious repulse. Some express it a "Bull Run disaster." Their hopes now rest on the Voorhees bill and the failure of the admission scheme. The Mormons, of course, are jubilant, expressing gratification that they live under a high-minded government, which administers impartial and even handed justice, without fear or favor. The Mormon authorities commenced a series of arrests this afternoon, for refusal to pay oppressive taxes and licenses. An apostate Mormon merchant, named Silver, was dragged over his counter and through the street, in all manner of indignity, and tortured with wire wrist cuffs to City Hall. Intense excitement ensued. Hundreds flocked to the court room angry and determined. Judge Hayden, for the prisoner, alleged that great outrage had been committed, demanded time to prepare a defense and said $100,000, if necessary, was ready for bail. Silver was at length released on recognizance till Monday.

Eastern capitalists and others here on mining business express strong apprehension of injury to the interest of the territory the coming season if the present situation remains intact.

New Connection Projected.

ST. LOUIS, April 16.—A delegation of about fifty prominent citizens of Nebraska will arrive here to-morrow to consult with the citizens of St. Louis in regard to the construction of a railroad from Omaha to the Missouri river, to connect with the Missouri and Pacific at Atchison, Kansas, and give a direct route from the Union Pacific at Omaha to St. Louis.

Reform Republicans of Philadelphia Indorse Hartranft.

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—At a meeting of the Republican Reform Committee this evening resolutions were adopted indorsing the nomination of General Hartranft for Governor and favoring the nomination of Gen. Grant. A resolution requesting the State Central Committee to request the delegates to the National Convention elected at the late State Convention to resign was agreed to.

National Sunday School Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 16.—The National Sunday School Convention opened to-night with an immense meeting at the Second Presbyterian Church. Rev. George A. Peltz, of Philadelphia, presided. The devotional exercises commenced by singing "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." Rev. Mr. Edson, of this city, made an address of welcome on the part of the church, and Lieutenant Governor Cumback one on the part of the citizens of the State, which were responded to by the Rev. Dr. Vincent, of New York, after which the regular committees were appointed, including a committee to select permanent officers. The hymn commencing, "All hail the power of Jesus's name," was sung by the entire assembly, led by Rev. Chaplain Lozier, of Indiana. Brief addresses were made by various delegates from the State, and also by the Rev. John Wood, of Canada. Among distinguished Sunday school workers present to-night are Rev. Foster Penn, Dr. Hatfield, of Cincinnati; Rev. Trumbull, of Illinois; Rev. Alfred Taylor, of New York; Messrs. Kemp, of Boston; Burr, of Washington; Reynolds, of Peoria; the Rev. Mr. Paxton, of New Orleans; Gen. Fisk, of St. Louis; Thos. Miller, of Cincinnati; Rev. Dr. McKee, of Louisville; Rev. Jno. Wood, of Canada, and Mr. Magill, of Ireland.

CHURCH AND STATE.

Important Decision by the U. S. Supreme Court.

[Washington Dispatch to Cincinnati Commercial.]

The Supreme Court was called upon Monday, for the first time, to decide the relations between Church and State. The case, that of Watson vs. Jones, was a controversy between the two bodies into which a Presbyterian Church of Louisville, Kentucky, became divided, about the close of the war, and the question which the Court decided was, which of these two bodies was entitled to the use of the church building and other effects. The schism originated in the questions growing out of the war. The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States (Old School), to which the church belonged, by various declarations and resolutions passed at its annual meetings during the rebellion, expressed its sense of the duty of all good citizens to sustain the Government in that struggle, its adherence to President Lincoln's proclamation of emancipation, and its antagonism to slavery.

As soon as the military possession was withdrawn in the border States of Kentucky and Missouri, the members of these churches who sided with the Southern States, in view of slavery and other matters, declared their hostility to the action of the General Assembly. This resulted in a division in most of the churches, which finally extended to the Presbyterians and the Synods of those States, and in the withdrawal of the friends of slavery from the General Assembly of Presbyterians of the United States, and the union with a body of the same character styling itself of the Confederate States. On a suit brought in the State Court of Kentucky to decide who were the lawful trustees and elders of the church in question, that court overruled the decision of the General Assembly, and held that the officers who denied its authority and refused obedience to its orders were the true church officers. Some of the members of that church who resided across the Ohio river in Indiana, having the requisite citizenship to confer jurisdiction, brought suit in the United States Court at Louisville to have their right to the use of the church as a place of worship protected, and the decree of the court establishing those rights was to-day affirmed by the Supreme Court.

The opinion, which was delivered by Mr. Justice Miller, holds that when the property, which is the subject of a controversy of this kind, has been dedicated to the purpose of supporting any definite religious doctrine or form of worship by the deed or will of the donor, or by the act of purchase, the civil courts will see that it is not diverted from the trust to which it is thus devoted, and if necessary for this purpose will inquire which of the two conflicting bodies claiming to be the true adherents of the faith or form of worship to which the property was dedicated, and will determine this for themselves; but when the property is given to or bought by a religious congregation for the religious uses of the church, and no special trust is stated in the deed or will or declarative trust in favor of specific religious dogmas or form of worship, when there is a dispute in the Courts as to its contest, the question to be answered is, which of the two bodies claiming is the true original organization or its legitimate successor?

In the case of independent congregations, whose government is complete within themselves, this is not difficult; but when the local church which bought or built the Presbytery, is itself but a part of the larger or more general organization or denomination, it becomes more difficult. In such case the Court lays down the principle that it will accept the decision of the highest ecclesiastical tribunal to which the case has been carried within that general church organization as final, and will not inquire into the justice or injustice of its decree as between the parties before it. When the officers, the minister, the members or the Church body, the highest judiciatory of the denomination, recognize the Court will recognize; whom that body expels or cuts off the Court will hold to be no longer a member of that Church.

The opinion supports this doctrine by an exhaustive review of the cases in England and Scotland and America, and show why a different doctrine, established in England under the influence of Lord Chancellor Elder, and by the weight of his influence in the House of Lords, forced on the Scottish Courts, is not applicable to this country, under our principles of religious liberty and total separation of Church and State, and it shows the overwhelming weight of judicial authority in the State Courts in this country in favor of the doctrine laid down by the Supreme Court.

The case is one of very general interest to the churches, whose vast property may be affected by it in cases of separation, and it is the first time that the Supreme Court has ever been called on to consider the relations of the civil to the ecclesiastical courts of this country, and the effect upon that relation of the general principles which govern the relation of Church and State under our political system. The case has been held under advisement for a year, partly in the hope that a reconciliation would be brought about; but mainly for a thorough examination of the law and the facts involved in it. It was brought to the Supreme Court by Assistant Attorney General Bristow and his partner, General Harlan, of Kentucky, and the decision of the Court to-day, was in their favor.

Mysterious Disappearance of a Philadelphia Cattle Dealer.

[From the Cincinnati Enquirer, Tuesday.]

About a week ago a Philadelphian named Bachman, one of the firm of Uhlman & Bachman, cattle dealers in that city, arrived in Cincinnati for the purpose, as he alleged, of buying 1,200 cattle. He stopped at the Brighton House, and during several days last week was engaged in the business that brought him here. About noon on Sunday he left his hotel, saying that he would go down town, but would be back by four o'clock. He failed to return, however, and since that time nothing has been heard of him, although diligent inquiries have been made concerning his whereabouts. It is feared that he has been foully dealt with, as it is known that he was in the habit of carrying large sums of money on his person. Telegraphic messages have been sent to Philadelphia concerning him, but nothing further of him is known there except that he started West for the purpose he alleged upon his arrival in this city.

THE Erie Dispatch says: On board the steamer Oceanus, which exploded her boilers last week, causing the death of fifty or sixty persons, were a former resident of Erie, Geo. Constable (son of John Constable), and his wife. Both were drowned. Ex-Sheriff Swan was a passenger on the Oceanus as far up as Memphis, but discovering that he could reach home sooner by taking the cars at that city, he did so, and thus escaped the fate of those who remained.

LET the good people along the route of the Pan Handle Railroad beware. Col. McClure, of Philadelphia, publicly announces that he "will go to Cincinnati and burn all the bridges behind him!" Where are the police?—Newark Courier.

JOHN H. STEWART, P. M.

That "Bull Run" Case.

Elsewhere an account is given of the disposition of three young men by Mayor Blackmore, for rescuing a prisoner from officer Kennedy. Subsequently one of the defendants appeared before Alderman Strain and charged Mr. Kennedy with perjury. He was arrested and taken to the county jail, where he was locked up for the night, it being alleged that no opportunity was given him to obtain bail. If this was the case—and Alderman Strain should inquire into it—the officer who made the arrest should be properly taught his duty.

The Recordership.

Augustus Beckert, Esq., of Allegheny, is a candidate for the office of County Recorder, and is being warmly supported by his friends. He was a good soldier, a member of the famous Sickles Brigade, and lost a leg in the service. He made a good run for the office three years ago, and came within an ace of winning. He is every way competent and deserving, and if nominated would make an efficient and accommodating officer.

JAMES WILLARD and Wm. H. Printz entered cross-suits yesterday before Alderman Strain for aggravated assault and battery. The former is the son of the proprietor of the Willard Hotel on Water street, and the latter is in the employ of the Connellsville Railroad Company. The parties had not been on good terms for some time, when, as was alleged, a quarrel ensued which was followed by a melee, in the progress of which Willard was cut severely with a knife, while Printz was badly battered about the head with a poker. Both parties were arrested and held in $500 bail for a hearing.

ABOUT half past six o'clock last evening, a man whose name has not been ascertained, met with a severe accident on Beaver avenue near Juniata street, Allegheny. The unfortunate man while walking along the avenue saw a cartman driving rapidly along, and wishing to speak to him ran out into the street to stop the horse. He caught hold of the animal, when he was dragged along some distance and fell, the horse striking him on the forehead inflicting a severe wound. He was removed to the office of Dr. Cummings, who dressed his injuries.

THE Allegheny Board of School Controllers will hold a special meeting on Tuesday evening next, for the purpose of discussing the feasibility of creating the office of City Superintendent. Two gentlemen have signified their intention of being candidates for the office, if it is decided at the meeting to create the office. The names of the candidates are A. T. Douthett and Mr. Morrow, principal of the Fourth ward school. A number of Directors called on the Rev. John Davis to ascertain whether he would be a candidate. He however declined to be called a candidate, but stated that if elected he would serve.

A DRIVER of one of Frank Ardary's teams, named Carr, was accidentally thrown from a wagon on Thirty-third street yesterday, and received several severe injuries.

FOR indigestion, dyspepsia, depression of spirits and general debility in their various forms, also as a preventive against fever and ague, and other intermittent fevers, the "Ferro-Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya," made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., of New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic, and as a tonic for patients recovering from fever or other sickness it has no equal. PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Another large audience, composed mainly of the intelligent and appreciative of our theater going community, assembled at the Pittsburgh Opera last night, to witness the performance of Lovell's enjoyable play, "Love's Sacrifice." Miss Jane Coombs was the Margaret Elmore of the evening, and, as usual, personated the character in the highest style of dramatic art. Miss Coombs has so often appeared as that devoted child, modest sweetheart and true woman, Margaret Elmore, that to say anything in her praise would be superfluous. The support afforded the lady, was, in the main, excellent. The Matthew Elmore of Mr. Robinson was a masterpiece of acting, and Mr. Otis's delineation of St. Lo proved most acceptable to the audience. The thankless character of Paul Lafont found an able exponent in Mr. Bradley. Mrs. Mark Bates made all that was possible out of Hermonie de Vermont, which, considering that the character is not at all in her line of business, is saying a great deal. The remainder of the cast was most meritorious, and proved fully satisfactory to the audience.

This evening Miss Coombs appears as Constance, in the "Love Chase," supported by the entire company.

Fifth Avenue Opera House.

Some weeks ago, while Manager Ellsler was in New York, a friend of his insisted on his visiting one of the theaters where Prof. Davies, a ventriloquist, was performing. He did so and was so astonished at Mr. Davies powers as a ventriloquist that he soon after closed an engagement with him to appear in this city. Mr. Davies is now at the Fifth Avenue Opera House, and were our amusement going people aware of the astonishing nature of his entertainment the house would be crowded nightly. Such an extraordinary ventriloquial performance was never before given in Pittsburgh. Mr. Davies appears upon the stage with a couple of little figures, which he introduces to the audience as his "two incorrigible boys Joe and Tom." During the scene which follows other characters are introduced, and for about twenty minutes the auditors are kept in a roar of laughter. Those who have read "Valentine Vox" will appreciate how humorous a scene a good ventriloquist can create, and that Mr. Davies is at the head of his profession we can fully assure the reader. Do not fail to see him, and, particularly, take the children to the matinee on Saturday.

Academy of Music.

The performance of the Teutonic sensational drama entitled "Schneider" attracted another large audience to the Academy last night. The cast was the same as on the night previous, and all the characters were well rendered. As Mose, the elephant and the monkey, Little Mac keeps his audience in roars of laughter. Mr. Allen appears in several characters in the drama and renders them in his usual artistic manner. The Academy, since its reconstruction, is one of the cosiest and most comfortable places of amusement in the city, and with such excellent attractions as Johnny Allen and Little Mac, bids fair to be filled every night this week. This evening "Schneider" will be repeated, when another crowded house may be anticipated.

Varieties Theater.

An excellent bill of fare was presented at the Varieties Theater last night, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the many patrons of the house present. To-night the Walhallah brothers, the Mathews family, and Manager Aims talented stock company will appear in an entertainment embracing singing, dancing, gymnastics, negro comicalities and a host of other attractions.

Theodore Thomas.

The return of Theodore Thomas's concert organization to our city is anxiously looked forward to by every lover of good music. Miss Marie Krebs, the distinguished pianist, Mr. Bernhard Listerman, the violinist, and the unrivaled orchestra of about sixty musicians, will receive a hearty welcome on next Wednesday evening from the musical portion of our people, who well know the treat in store for them. The sale of tickets will commence at Kleber & Bro.'s music store on next Friday morning.

Forepaugh's Great Exhibition.

The public are on the qui vive for the appearance of Forepaugh's Mammoth Exhibition. On next Monday the four large tents required by the immensity of the exhibition will be pitched on the corner of Twenty-ninth and Penn streets. The exhibition will be in our city for two days, and will then move to Allegheny, where it will remain for four days. See the programmes of the day.

The Guenther Concert.

This evening the pupils of Prof. Guenther will give their first concert at Mercantile Library Hall. An admirable programme has been selected for the occasion, including solos, duetts, trios and quartettes by the most accomplished composers. A Steinway Grand, in addition to a full orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Weise, will furnish the instrumental portion of the programme. Lovers of good music should not miss this opportunity of showing their appreciation of home talent.

Masonic Hall.

The Fakir of Ava was greeted by a large outpouring or, rather, in-pouring of the people last night. His magical illusions confounded his auditors, and his valuable presents given away at the close of the entertainment, made them astonished at the Fakir's liberality. During his stay, only four nights longer, Masonic Hall will be the great resort of the lovers of the marvelous. A new programme to-night, and one hundred useful and valuable presents for the audience.

Alumni Reunion.

The alumni of the Western Theological Seminary held their reunion last evening in the First Presbyterian Church, Allegheny. There was a very large attendance of the friends of the institution, and about one hundred of the alumni were present. After the introductory religious services, Prof. S. J. Wilson proceeded to deliver the address of welcome. Responses were then made by the Rev. Dr. Nicholls, of St. Louis, Dr. Robinson, of Harrisburg, and Dr. Alfred Nevin, of Philadelphia. At the conclusion of Rev. Mr. Nevin's address, the audience was dismissed with the benediction.

The jury, however, believed the young woman, and so found.

Patrick F. McAnally was put on trial for assault and battery on oath of Richard Perry. The parties reside at Woods Run, Ninth Ward, Allegheny. The jury found a verdict of not guilty, and that the prosecutor pay the costs.

The "instrument" set forth that a watch had been sold for the sum of fifteen dollars, to be paid for in three months, at the rate of five dollars per month. It was dated on a Sunday, and the alteration consisted in changing the date to Monday. The jury found a verdict of not guilty, and that the prosecutor, Mr. Beswanger, pay half the costs, and the defendant the other half.

YESTERDAY afternoon the soot in they chimney of a house off Miller street, and near Center avenue, took fire. The sparks set fire to the roof, but the flames were speedily extinguished by a plug stream. The engines of the district were on hand but did not go into service. EDWARD HOFSCHMIT, a resident of the Ninth ward, had a hearing last evening before Mayor Callow on a charge of disorderly conduct, and was committed thirty days to the Workhouse. NEARLY all our cotemporaries are diligently serving up Prof. Luckey's annual report of the schools fol the year ending June, 1871. It is nearly three months since this report made its first appearance, and copious extracts from it were then published in all the daily papers. The book having been bound since then, and distributed about the newspaper offices, some of the fraternity imagine it a new report.

Owens, who is a colored express driver, alleged that he had purchased a horse from the accused who is in the employ of the Oakland Passenger Railway Company, for forty dollars, upon the representation from the accused that the animal was sound in every respect, which the prosecutor found to be false, hence the suit. A warrant was issued.

IT is rumored that there will be no quorum at the Council meeting called for to-day for the purpose of electing a City Engineer. The friends of one of the candidates at the recent informal meeting are desirous of time to prepare an ordinance requiring that no candidate for the office be balloted for until he has been first examined by a competent committee and pronounced capable. Whether such will be the case or not will be better known this afternoon.

OFFICER JOHNSON, of the Mayor's police, was charged with assault and battery yesterday, before Alderman Strain, F. A. Snyder, prosecutor. Snyder is a coal hauler, and while driving his team down Fourth avenue, was stopped by the officer, who stated that he had a warrant for his arrest. He requested the officer to show his warrant, but instead of complying, as is alleged, he seized him and dragged him off the wagon. He then resisted, when the officer raleased him. As the warrant did not call for his arrest, but for another of the same name, the suit was instituted. A warrant was issued.

AT its last meeting the Millvale Council ordered the opening of Lincoln avenue to Hoofer street, Mead alley to Butler street, and Butler street to Lincoln avenue, without delay; passed an ordinance requiring railroad companies crossing Bridge street with their tracks to place a flagman at the crossing, and referred to a sub-committee a proposal to improve the condition of Sheridan avenue. A communication was received from Sarah Dawson, demanding compensation for the bedding, clothing, &c., which she had in her possession, which by authority of council had been destroyed because of its being infected with the small-pox; the Burgess was instructed, in case of suit being entered against the borough, to proceed and bring suit against Mrs. Dawson for bringing the said infected bedding, &c., into the borough limits.

It Has No Equal.

The manufacturers of the celebrated Charm cook stove justly claim for it superiority in respect to finish and durability. Plates are discounted, to use the technical expression, in the manufacture of the Charm, which would be used without hesitation by other manufacturers. Each and every one of the Charm stoves is complete and perfect in all its parts, and unexceptionable in every respect. Housekeepers will find the Charm a good baker, economical in fuel, and that it will outlast two ordinary stoves. The Charm is made and sold by John B. Herron & Co., No. 291 Liberty street.

If you want fine and fashionable clothing at the lowest prices, call and examine the stock at No. 5 Sixth street.

THE PHOTOGRAPHIC ART.

Its Leading Representative in Pittsburgh—Fine Specimens on Exhibition at Mahan's.

The photographic art is one which, during the few years that have elapsed since its invention, has been brought to great perfection. Yet, there are few artists who have kept pace with its rapid progress. Our city, however, can boast of one whose superior it would, indeed, be difficult to find. To all who have examined the fine specimens of photographs exhibited in front of No. 31 Fifth avenue, and in the extensive Gallery of Mr. Davis Mahan, it is evident to whom we refer. During a recent visit to Mr. Mahan's Gallery we found the walls literally covered with the "counterfeit presentments" of many of our most distinguished citizens, and candor compels us to say that we have never seen more natural or lifelike photographs, and we even doubt if they can anywhere be produced. They all bear the impress of true genius, and stamp Mr. Mahan as an artist of no ordinary attainments. Art to him seems to be a gift of nature, and his pictures appear to smile as if in approval of the work of their master. Mr. Mahan makes all photographs of the latest and most popular styles, including the celebrated Rembrandt, and they are alike characterized by their beauty and superiority and attest the merit of the artist.

In a matter so important as that of procuring the likeness of an aged parent or a loved friend, which is to preserve their features long after death has claimed them for his own, it seems indeed strange that many will content themselves with cheap and worthless pictures, neither true to nature nor pleasing to the sight. On the contrary, the photographs produced by Mr. Mahan are a "joy forever," and as lasting as they are superior in artistic finish. Call and see the elegant specimens at Mahan's, and be convinced that he is the representative photographer of Pittsburgh.

On motion of Dr. Arthurs, Jacob Reese, Esq., was called to the chair—Henry Lloyd, Esq., the President, being absent on account of sickness in his family.

On motion of Mr. Steele, Mr. J. M. Gazzam was appointed Secretary pro tem.

On motion of Dr. Arthurs, the constitution and by-laws, as printed, were unanimously adopted.

On motion of R. H. Smith, a committee of five on nominations for officers for the ensuing year was appointed, consisting of Messrs. R. H. Smith, A. Arthurs, Benj. W. Morgan, Thos. H. Phelps and Thos. Steele.

While the committee were out selecting the ticket, the President of the meeting made a few appropriate remarks upon the necessity of preparing in time for the coming campaign; that our enemies were up and doing, and we must be on our guard.

Dr. A. M. Barr was then called upon. The Dr. started out by saying he had never made a speech in his life, but would say a few words. The coming campaign would probably be the most important that had ever taken place; that it is our duty as American citizens to rally around the old flag, to sustain our Government in order to perpetuate our liberties.

Mr. Gazzam being called upon spoke at considerable length upon the issues of the coming campaign; the importance to the people that no changes in our Government should be made at present; that as the country increases in wealth, population and power, the issues of each campaign become more and more important—particularly so to Allegheny county, with its many industries and great manufacturing interests.

The Committee on officers here reported the following list:

President—Henry Lloyd,
Vice Presidents—B. F. Jones, J. J. Gillespie, Jacob Resse, Col. Henry B. Hays and David Harris.
Secretary—Thos. H. Phelps.
Treasurer—Edward House.
Executive Committee—Messrs. Addison Arthurs, Geo. W. Wilson, Jos. M. Gazzam, Dr. A. M. Barr and Thos. H. Hunter.
Membership—Messrs. Thos. S. Bigelow, H. W. Oliver, Jr., Chas. P. Duff, Isaac Jones and W. J. Friday.

On motion of Col. Snodgrass, the ticket as reported was unanimously elected.

Col. Snodgrass moved that a committee of five be appointed to make any necessary arrangements for attending the Philadelphia Convention. Carried unanimously, and the Chairman appointed C. L. Magee, R. M. Snodgrass, R. C. Elliott, R. H. Smith and William J. Diehl as the committee.

The thanks of the meeting were tendered to the President and Secretary pro tem.

Col. Joseph Ross moved that a special meeting of the club be held on the third Tuesday of each month, in addition to the stated meetings, until after the Presidential campaign. Carried. Adjourned.

Sworn to Before His Honor, the Mayor of Pittsburgh, Pa.

DR. TUMBLETY—Dear Sir: Supposing that others afflicted as I have been may be benefitted by the knowledge and use of your medicines and treatment, I am induced to make the following statement: For a long time I have been afflicted with consumption, said to be in the last stage by many doctors. They all failed to cure me. I applied to Dr. Tumblety, of 188 Liberty street. My coughing, spitting blood, pain in the chest are all gone. My voice is quite restored. I feel as strong as ever, and from having been reduced to a skeleton, I have gained twenty-one pounds since I commenced taking his medicine.

As I experienced much benefit from the use of Dr. Tumblety's medicines, I feel as though I could not say enough in their favor, and I feel thankful to God, the author and preserver of my life, that he has guided me to Dr. Tumblety, who has cured me.

MICHAEL CONNER.

Sworn and subscribed before me, W. C. McCarthy Mayor in and for the said city of Pittsburgh, this 25th day of February, 1867.

WM. C. MCCARTHY, Mayor.

Our Allegheny readers will find at the new establishment of Mr. John Mitsch, No. 92, East Ohio street, one of the largest and finest assortments of ladies' and gentleman's gold and silver watches, gold chains, finger rings, ladies setts of jewelry, etc., etc., in any similar establishment in the two cities. Mr. Mitsch has but recently fitted up the room which he at present occupies, but the work has been so thoroughly done that it will compare favorably with any jewelry establishment in the two cities. The salesroom is a large one, having a fine French plate glass front affording plenty of light, and is otherwise most admirably arranged. The stock of goods kept by Mr. Mitsch has just been replenished and is sufficiently full to meet the demand of the retail trade. It consist of all articles usually sold in a first class jewelry store, and includes besides the goods already mentioned, a fine lot of French and American clocks to which special attention is invited. Any of our readers having occasion to buy any thing in his line will find as good inducements at his store in the way of carefully selected and superior goods, and reasonable prices as they would be able to obtain elsewhere, and will find him withal an agreeable and pleasant gentleman who will take pleasure in rendering them the fullest satisfaction in whatever they may purchase.

The Popular Idaho.

The great popularity of the Idaho is of that character that must be enduring. It has been gradually gained during the five years which it has been in use, and is the result of its superiority over its rivals. SAMARITAN'S GIFT
Is now so popular that those sickening drugs—Balsam Copabia, &c.—are very little used. This is important for many reasons: First, being a positive cure, purely vegetable, and will not disorder the stomach of the most delicate. Only ten pills to be taken to effect a cure, which of course can be done without the knowledge of any person and there is no smell from the breath. These advantages possessed by the
SAMARITAN'S GIFT
Over all others, have been the means of preventing broils and troubles which under the old drugging could not be avoided. The Samaritan's Gift is thus silently a peace maker, and is destined to become the standard remedy of the day.
Male packages $2; female $3. Sent by mail.
